Unofficial Word Says Crusader Due for Korea

Bearer of Royal Visitors May Serve With U.N. Fleet

By RAY WORMALD
Colonist Marine Editor

The destroyer H.M.C.S. Crusader is being prepared for a tour of operations in the Korea war zone, it was learned unofficially yesterday.

It is expected she will leave Esquimalt about May 24. Her war assignment would last between eight and 10 months, in line with present schedules of Royal Canadian Navy participation in the United Nations' Korean War fleet.

Presence of Crusader in the war zone would bring to three again the number of Pacific Command destroyers in Korean service. It is unlikely the Sioux, which returned from her second tour, March 8, will return to the battle zone.

Still in the Far East are the West Coast Fleet destroyers Cayuga and Athabaskan. Cayuga is due to return from her second tour late in May or early in June.

Crusader is currently undergoing an extensive refit at the local naval base.

The 1,700-ton warship was on loan to the R.C.N. from the Royal Navy from her commissioning in 1945 to late last year. Then she was transferred to the Canadian Navy.

Throughout last summer Crusader, commanded by Cmdr. H. V. W. Groos, headed the three-ship Pacific Training Force. Included were the frigates Antigonish and Beacon Hill.

For her Korean assignment the destroyer will carry approximately 270 officers and men.

Crusader carried Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to and from Vancouver Island during the Royal couple's recent Canadian visit.

Last August the Crusader got half way to the war zone. She accompanied the Korea-bound destroyer Athabaskan as far as Pearl Harbor, then returned to the local base.

Official word of Crusader's Korean assignment is expected shortly from naval headquarters in Ottawa.

Practically all members of the ship's company live in Victoria.

May Be Next for Korea

Unofficial reports say H.M.C.S. Crusader may be the next Esquimalt-based destroyer to serve in the Korean war zone. Above picture was taken as Crusader pulled away from Nanaimo jetty last October, bearing the then Princess Elizabeth and Duke of Edinburgh from the Island to Vancouver.—(Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

Battle Among Prisoners Led to Koje Island Killing

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, March 15 (AP)—A violent rock fight between rival groups of North Korean prisoners in this Allied stockade erupted into a shooting in which 12 Communist prisoners were killed and 26 wounded Thursday.

Capt. Walter R. Leahy of Newton, Mass., prison security officer, reported the shooting was done by South Korean soldier guards after he himself had been downed by a stone in the face and despite his orders not to fire.

The outbreak was the second in less than a month on this rocky island prison off the coast of southeast Korea.

Seventy-eight interned Korean civilians and an American soldier were killed in a riot in the stockade Feb. 18. Brig-Gen. Frank T. Dodd, Koje commander, said that disturbance was a deliberately-plotted Red riot, in contrast to Thursday's apparently spontaneous outbreak.

Leahy told correspondents the North Korean prisoners in compound 93 had renounced Communism about five days ago and had begun displaying Republic of Korea and United Nations flags. The prisoners in an adjacent compound, No. 92, evidently remained ardent Communists.

Thursday morning a work party of about 150 prisoners from 93 passed along a dirt road paralleling the barbed wire fence of 92. Guarding the workers were seven or eight South Korean soldiers armed with rifles.

Taunts exchanged between the two groups of prisoners led to the rock throwing and finally to the shooting, Leahy said.

Reds Protest Prison Rioting At Truce Talks

MUNSAN, March 16 (Sunday) (AP)—The senior Red delegate to the Korean armistice talks Sunday lodged a protest concerning Thursday's riot on Koje Island in which 12 North Korean prisoners of war were killed and 26 others wounded.

The North Korean Red said the United Nations command must guarantee against further rioting among the prisoners.

Meanwhile, other staff officers discussed an Allied package proposal aimed at breaking the deadlock on truce supervision.

The Allied team offered to accept a Communist plan for five instead of six ports of entry and to yield on Allied demands for periodic reports on locations of major military units and for a ban on concentrations of forces posing a threat to the other side.

In return, the Allies insisted that the Reds drop demands for inspection of secret weapons during a truce and deletion of the word "Korea" from a truce clause banning naval blockade.

Four Arrested In Reno Theft

RENO, Nev., March 15 (AP).—The fabulous story of the richest theft in U.S. history neared a climax tonight with the arrest of four more persons in the $1,500,000 Redfield burglary.

Arrested in Milwaukee were John Trilegi, 37, and Frank Sorrenti, 36. Trilegi was arrested at a hospital where he was to have undergone an operation for an old back injury. Sorrenti was arrested at his Milwaukee apartment.

Nabbed at Los Angeles was the dark-haired mystery woman in the case, Mrs. Leona Mae Giordano, 37, ex-gambling girl and cocktail waitress.

Jailed here is a 230-pound gambling club bouncer, Louis Gazzigli, 44. He is a one-time prize fighter with an extensive record of rape and robbery in New York and California.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the F.B.I., said in a statement that Sorrenti, Trilegi, Gazzigli, and Andries Robert Young, arrested March 11 in Milwaukee, arrived in Reno Feb. 27.

The F.B.I. chief referred to the four men as the perpetrators of the burglarly of the Lavere Redfield residence, Feb. 29.

Hoover's statement did not mention Mrs. Giordano as one of the burglars. But she is charged with transporting stolen property across state lines. She had $5,000 of the Redfield loot when arrested at Los Angeles.

The four men are charged with conspiracy to transport stolen property across state lines.

It was Mrs. Giordano's liking for cocktails and gambling that apparently enabled authorities to crack the case.

Last Monday night, after several drinks and a run of bad luck on the 21 tables, she tried to pass off in the swank Riverside Hotel gambling casino a "hot" $1,000 bill one of those taken from millionaire Redfield's home.

Hours later the F.B.I. made its first arrest—of Young, 46, an ex-convict.

Mrs. Giordano, mother of two teen-agers, reportedly was kept in custody at Reno for two days without charge and then released.

B.C. Maintains Meat Import Ban

THE ban on fresh meat imports from Alberta to this province remains and no change is foreseen for another few days, it was reported from the agriculture department yesterday.

Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman is awaiting reports on setting up a federal inspection system between the two provinces. When this is completed, it may be possible to ease the provincial ban, it was reported.

Southern California Rain Heaviest of Wet Winter

LOS ANGELES, March 15 (INS). — The season's biggest storm struck southern California today, bringing record rains and snow that killed one man, marooned two busloads of marines in the Sierras and flooded scores of communities.

Main streets in the Los-Angeles-Hollywood area were flooded curb to curb and more than 1,000 disaster relief workers stood by to evacuate scores of families in flooded areas.

Blizzards swept the high Sierras. Near Bishop, rotary snowplows ground through five-foot drifts to reach two busloads of marines en route from winter maneouvres to Camp Pendleton. Four other buses of marines were temporarily marooned.

Near Newhall, Farmer Harvey E. Myrick, 60, was pitched into the flood-swollen Santa Clara River and drowned when his tractor overturned.

The storm created havoc from the beach cities to the Nevada border where winds in the desert up to 40 miles an hour knocked over trees and caused isolated property damage.

High winds blew ships ashore along the coast. Biggest vessel tossed up on the beach was a 168-foot sport fishing boat at Long Beach. A 30-foot boat sank at Santa Monica and a dozen vessels were ripped from their moorings.

M.S.A. Told To Pay Bill

VANCOUVER, March 15 (CP). —A $15.50 judgment against Medical Services Association, given by Judge R. A. Sargeant in County Court, is expected to have far-reaching effects on the liability of health insurance groups for laboratory test fees.

The judge ordered M.S.A. to pay the $15.50 bill incurred by one of its members, Wassel Starr, for laboratory tests ordered by his physicians.

The M.S.A. refused to pay the bill on the grounds the laboratory technician is not a doctor.

Ching's Violin in No-Man's-Land

Ghostly Gaiety in Kumsong

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, March 15 (AP). Deserted Kumsong is a ghost town in a cold, dead valley between Allied and enemy lines.

Soldiers who look down on it from their frontline bunkers on these frozen hills say Kumsong is haunted.

The waves of war have washed over the town too often to count. The mud huts are charred heaps of rubble.

The ruins have been left to the rats, and to cautious patrols which creep into Kumsong late at night, look, and silently withdraw.

Soldiers call it "the capital of No-Man's-Land."

Many come back from long hours of looking over the snow-swept valley to say they have heard "it" again distant music and the gay laughter of women carried in the crisp night air.

It was only a whispered story until this sign appeared mysteriously one morning, nailed to a log bunker:

"Come to the gala dance this Saturday night — located in lively, convenient Kumsong. Dancing partners and delicious drinks without cost."

The strange events prompted Sgt. Joe Schwaller of Monterey Park, Calif., to write:

"There's a place to dance in your combat pants,
"And a place to forget the fight;
"There's gals galore and no sign of war
"In Kumsong, Saturday night.
"It's down the line, don't step on a mine,
"Far from the battle's din,
"Where you can jig to the phantom music
"Of Ching—and his violin."

For those who scoff there is only one answer. Just dress warmly and go up the hill to the bunkers some lonely night. You'll hear laughing voices and sweet music.

You'll hear a voice in the next bunker say: "It's Ching and his violin."

Ship Epidemic Not Diphtheria

HONOLULU, March 15 (INS). — The epidemic which has stricken 21 members of a navy attack transport was diagnosed in Pearl Harbor today as a "flu type" illness, and not diphtheria, as first believed.

Medical officers at Tripler General Hospital in Honolulu, where the ill men are hospitalized, said that tests proved the illness not to be diphtheria. They had first agreed with the diagnosis of the ship's doctor, Lt. (JG) Robert D. McGinnis of San Leandro, Calif.

Fashions Featured

On the morning of March 27, The Daily Colonist will present its annual review of spring fashions.

The presentation will take the form of a special supplement, bringing up to date the news from the fashion centres of the world. Included will be the trends from Paris, the United States and Canada, with special articles on the situation here in Victoria.

Entire production of the supplement will be done in the editorial rooms of The Daily Colonist, and the supplement will feature all local advertising from stores catering to Colonist readers.

The supplement will cover news of fashion for all members of the family, from boys and girls, through the men, but stressing of course matters of interest to that most interested group—the ladies.

Dominion Election Predicted for 1953

Retirement for St. Laurent, Cabinet Reshuffle Forecast

By TOM GREEN
Colonist Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA, March 15—The next federal general election will be held in the summer of 1953, probably in late June or early July, immediately preceded by a cabinet shuffle.

A year or so later, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent will retire from politics, irrespective of how the election goes, and a national Liberal convention will be called to choose his successor.

These predictions are made in well-informed quarters on Parliament Hill tonight.

With the redistributions bill slated to go through parliament this session, British Columbia will be electing four additional members to the House of Commons in the next parliament. It is generally accepted that the government will go to the country with its cabinet including two from British Columbia.

In the cabinet shuffle immediately preceding the general election, Hon. Robert Mayhew will likely retire to take a senatorship. There is an existing vacancy in the upper chamber caused by the death of Senator Ian Mackenzie.

TWO MINISTERS

Two Vancouver members, Ralph Campney, parliamentary assistant to the minister of national defense, and James Sinclair, parliamentary assistant to the minister of finance, are expected to enter the revamped cabinet.

It will not be the first time British Columbia has had two representatives in the cabinet. In the short-lived Meighen cabinet of 1926, the late Hon. S. F. Tolmie was minister of agriculture and Hon. H. H. Stevens was minister of customs and excise.

With regard to the Liberal party leadership when Mr. St. Laurent decides to step out, External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson and Finance Minister D. C. Abbott are about the only names mentioned these days.

It is generally believed here that it was only at the insistence of the prime minister that Mr. Pearson declined recently the post of secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

But whether Mr. St. Laurent was so insistent because he believes Mr. Pearson is the man for the cabinet job he is presently performing, or whether he has in fact designated Mr. Pearson as the crown prince in the Liberal hierarchy, is Mr. St. Laurent's secret.

It is no secret, however, that if Mr. Pearson had been translated from Ottawa to the N.A.T.O. post, Mr. Abbott might have had clear sailing into the Liberal leadership when Mr. St. Laurent retires.

Mr. Pearson's attack on the C.C.F.'s policy on Thursday in relation to N.A.T.O. was almost his first excursion into the straight party political fights that take place now and then in Ottawa.

It marked a break in the united front the Canadian parliament has presented on foreign policy and Mr. Pearson's aggressive speech might also have signified his declaration that he is available for the job of tackling the Liberal leadership when Mr. St. Laurent retires.

Sign Painters Reject Offer

VANCOUVER, March 15 (CP). —Two hundred city sign painters have rejected a 12 cent an hour wage increase offer.

The workers, members of Sign and Pictorial Painters, Local 726 (A.F.L.), are seeking an increase in wages which would boost journeymen's wages from $1.70 to $2.15 an hour.

Two Die During Holdup

DETROIT, March 15 (INS.)—A veteran Detroit detective and one of two holdup men died tonight during the robbery of a downtown 10-cent store.

The officer was detective Russell Blanchard, 50, who was shot through the mouth by one of the bandits.

Captured was Edward Kozlowski, 34, who later died in Detroit's receiving hospital after being tackled in an escape attempt by a patrolman. The patrolman was not identified.

A second gunman escaped on foot.

Police said Kozlowski may have suffered a fractured skull when his head hit the sidewalk as he was tackled.

Fellow officers arrived only seconds behind Blanchard and a partner, detective Henry Miller, and blacked Kozlowski's escape.

Elaborate Care Taken In Trial Preparations

NEW YORK, March 15 (INS). —The trial of bank robber Willie (The Actor) Sutton will begin next Tuesday under elaborate security precautions.

Police will be taking no chances even though they don't know specifically what it is they're afraid of. All they do know is that one week tonight Arnold Schuster, the 24-year-old Brooklyn pants salesman whose tip led to Sutton's capture, was shot dead in the street.

What followed has been described as the biggest manhunt in the city's history.

The announced results, after seven days of intense sleuthing, are: Nothing. No arrests. No clues. No witnesses. Nothing.

The police are even running out of theories.

At first, the hue and cry was for Frederick "The Angel" Tenuto, long wanted as a murderer, who broke jail with Sutton a few years ago.

But now Tenuto is reported to be running second in the "who-killed-Schuster" derby. Police are looking for a convicted forger who is believed to have had an affair with Sutton's 17-year-old daughter.

Under constant police protection are the family of the slain Schuster, police Judge Samuel Leibowitz, Judge Peter Farrell (who will preside at the trial of Sutton), and witnesses who already have identified Sutton and two pals as the trio who robbed $64,000 from the Manufacturers Trust Company branch at Sunnyside, Long Island, two years ago.

Vessels Overdue In Eastern Storm

HALIFAX, March 15 (CP).—Two fishing vessels were overdue at Port Morien, N.S., tonight and fears were expressed for their safety.

The Hattie T. Moses and the David and Willie were due back in port this evening after leaving Port Morien early Friday. It is believed they may have encountered difficulty in Friday's severe storm. Winds up to 60 miles an hour swept the Atlantic seaboard during the storm.

The latest storm to hit the east coast today took at least two lives.

The storm blanketed Cape Breton with nearly 10 inches of snow. Many roads in Nova Scotia were blocked by drifts.

In Glace Bay, John R. MacDonald died from over-exertion while clearing snow in front of his home.

Mr. MacDonald, 58, was vice-president of the Nova Scotia Federation of Labor and past president of the United Mine Workers' Local 11.

He was also a former president of the Cape Breton Labor Council and had served on the unemployment commission for the Maritimes.

Tale Told Of Tails In Queue

VANCOUVER, March 15 (CP). —A little old lady newly-arrived from queue-ridden London spied a line-up on Vancouver's busy downtown Granville Street.

Automatically she fell in line. After a bit she asked the man in front: "What's this queue for?"

"Tales of Hoffman," the man replied.

"H'mmm," she said. "Well, I've never tried 'em but I dare say they would stew up all right."

Christ's Story Starts Today

An inspirational pictorial series telling the story of Christ starts in The Daily Colonist today and will continue through the Easter season.

The story, from Cecil B. De Mille's "The King of Kings," is told in dramatic pictures with a running, explanatory commentary.

First installment will be found on page 17.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

This is the kind of shirt-sleeve weather that makes you want to jump in the car and drive clear down to Mexico.

I had driven fully 100 yards when I realized that several miles of water and a double row of ill-tempered border guards blocked my way. So I drove home to Langford Lake for lunch instead.

Driving home to Langford for lunch is one of the gravest mistakes a working man can make. Take my advice and don't do it. You may be tempted to slide into—bathing trunks and stay there. When Monday dawns you will have a fine sun-tan, but no job.

At home we were greeted on the steps by a small girl demanding permission to pick violets.

The fire was laid in the fireplace, but my mother-in-law had been too warm to light it. Sunlight beat fiercely through the windows. A few days before, we had found a sprouting chestnut and put it in some damp soil in an old tobacco tin. The little tree, placed on a window-sill in the warmth, had sprung up to a height of about two inches already.

I did not actually put on a bathing suit, but after lunch I removed my jacket, changed from shoes into slippers, and ran down on the lawn to settle for a short while in a garden seat.

The sun was warm and the sky bright blue. "Mudhens" fussed along the , leaving a V-shaped wake and plunging down at intervals for a beak full of weed.

The sliver thread of a cobweb glistened in the sun. Liquid lights and shadows waved along the bare twigs of the willow tree overhanging the lake. Buds were forming. One of those little oarsman insects scuttled along the surface of the water.

Last night and for several nights before I had listened to the hoarse murmur of the frogs. In the dusk some hammering and banging had provided another sign of spring: some boys were fixing up a raft. It was there early in the morning, with its Huckleberry Finn-type deck house.

At lunch time, however, it had gone—already departed on the first lap of the voyage from Langford Lake to the Mississippi.

The three cats stalked one another through the brush and grass. When I went down to the float and stared at the water in a vain quest for fish, they followed me. The trout-colored cat changed its mind and walked daintily along the plank walk back to shore, where it lay down to bask on a strip of sandy beach that had been under water a fortnight earlier. The lake was falling.

I thought of all the little jobs that had to be done: lifting the heavy anchor of the float, so that the whole thing could be swung around to place the diving board over 10 feet of water; painting the garden benches; raking twigs and leaves off the lawn; removing one or two tin cans which had unexplainably found their way to the lake bottom; dragging the up-ended boat down to the lake and launching it when March winds are over.

It was just as well that the idea of homework occurred to me. Nothing else could have driven me from that drowsy retreat back to the office.

When I got there, I found that I was still wearing my slippers.

Truman Says U.S. Builds for Peace

NEW YORK, March 15 (INS).—President Truman called Russia a menace to the whole free world today, and said "we are building up our strength, not to march against them, but to discourage them from marching against us."

Sunburned and relaxed, the chief executive interrupted his Florida vacation to fly to New York and make a 15-minute speech before 3,300 high school journalists at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Considerable speculation existed beforehand as to his off-the-cuff address, but the President in his talk made no reference to his political plans for 1952.

He did, however, defend strongly the fair deal and paid glowing tribute to two Democratic figures, Woodrow Wilson and William Jennings Bryan. He said living in the White House is "a wonderful experience."

In almost the same breath in which he termed youth the hope of the world and the key to peace, Mr. Truman warned his listeners as editors they should "stick to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth." He lashed out at "some editors and publishers who . . . write propaganda."

Mr. Truman, who flew to New York aboard the presidential plane Independence with an overnight stop at Washington, arrived at LaGuardia Field shortly before 10 a.m. (CST) and was driven along an unannounced route to the Waldorf. His speech began at 1.30 p.m. (CST) and less than an hour later he was back on the plane en route nonstop to Key West.

Talk No Longer Very Cheap To Business Office Windbag

CHICAGO, March 15 (INS).—It's official. Inflation has struck the nastiest blow of all.

The era of the fast-but fifty-cent-dollar has finished the days when speech was free, or at least when talk was cheap, for the executive who loves to dictate letters.

Inflation has deflated the office windbag. The only economical thing he can do is talk to himself, because now it costs a dollar to send one letter.

And that, say the researchers, [illegible] mass-production basis from dictation to delivery. For the smaller operator it costs even more.

STUDY ENDED

The figures were supplied today by the correspondence improvement division of the Kemper insurance group in Chicago, which has just finished a study of letter-writing costs in 120 insurance and industrial offices, sending out a total of 70,000 letters a month.

In these big outfits, executives talk into dictaphones and typists are assigned in shifts from a typewriting pool or transcription department of listen and type, listen and type, eight hours a day.

That eliminates the secretary. Where shorthand is involved the costs are higher.

But they're surprising enough as it is. The Kemper researchers found that each letter cost 25.3 cents for the executive's dictating time, 40.5 cents in typists' salaries, 1.5 cents in employee benefits, 6.3 cents for stationery and printing, 4.2 cents for stamping machines, 4.1 cents for overhead, six six cents for stamps and mailing and 12.4 cents for miscellaneous expenses.

That totals one dollar and three mills, including the cost of walking to the mail slot down the corridor.

The Kemper study pegs this as a clear-cut trend. In 1950 the average letter cost only 85 cents. Last October it was 96 cents.

At that rate an executive can run out of cash before he runs out of breath, unless he follows some of the researchers' cost cutting suggestions.

First of all, they say, don't undermine the economy with inter-office memos. It's cheaper to pick up the phone and call the other guy.

Their second hint reads, "Be concise. Why not organize your main thoughts before starting to dictate?"

But the report warns:

"Don't sacrifice completeness. That would only mean you'd have to write two or three letters where one would be enough."

RELAX RESTRICTIONS

CAPE TOWN (CP)—The South African government has relaxed restrictions requiring civil servants to know both official languages, English and Afrikaans, in order to recruit 300 telecommunications experts overseas. Recruits will come from England, Holland, Germany and Denmark.

A HEANEY PUBLIC SERVICE EPISODE
AS I PREVIOUSLY EXPLAINED FRED, A CANDIDATE WITH A MINORITY VOTE CAN, AND OFTEN DOES, WIN THE POLL UNDER THE OLD SINGLE VOTE SYSTEM, AND IT IS BECAUSE EACH VOTER MERELY VOTES FOR ONE CANDIDATE – HIS FIRST CHOICE. UNDER THE ALTERNATIVE VOTING, OR SINGLE TRANSFERABLE VOTE EACH VOTER STATES HIS PREFERENCE BY MARKING HIS BALLOT 1 AGAINST HIS FIRST CHOICE - 2 AGAINST HIS SECOND, AND SO ON.
SUPPOSING A VOTER PUTS AN X AGAINST HIS FIRST PREFERENCE, UNDER THE NEW METHOD WILL HE BE DISQUALIFIED?
NO FRED, A VOTER MAY PUT AN X AGAINST HIS FIRST PREFERENCE UNDER THE NEW METHOD PROVISION FOR THAT HAS BEEN MADE FOR UNDER THE "PROVINCIAL ELECTION ACT"
THE NEW SYSTEM SOUNDS FINE BUT WONT THERE BE A LOT OF WASTED BALLOTS DUE TO PEOPLE MERELY VOTING FOR THEIR FIRST CHOICE ONLY! IN OTHER WORDS, MARKING THEIR BALLOTS AS THEY USED TO DO.
NO FRED, A BALLOT IS STILL GOOD, EVEN IF MARKED WITH THE VOTERS FIRST CHOICE ONLY. BUT IT IS TO HIS ADVANTAGE, AND THE CANDIDATES, IF HE STATES HIS CHOICE ALL THRU' THE LIST OF CANDIDATES.
NEXT TIME FRED, I'LL EXPLAIN HOW THIS SYSTEM WORKS IN A MULTI-MEMBER DISTRICT, SUCH AS WE HAVE HERE IN VICTORIA CITY.

This is the second of a series explaining the procedure of the Single-Transferable Vote, brought to you as a public service by Heaney's. Clip this out and save the series. No. 3 appears next week.

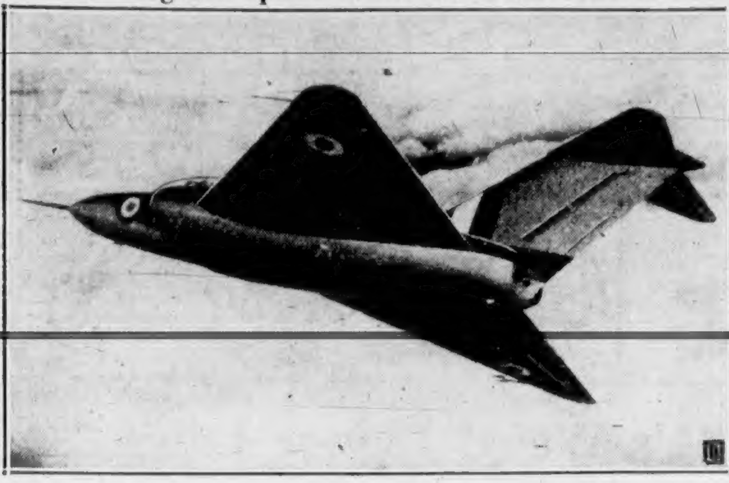
Jet Fighter Spells Death for Atom Bombers



Atom bomb killer is the name given to Britain's "mystery plane," the Gloster GA 5, claimed better qualified than any other aircraft in the world to destroy atom bombers. Powered by two record-breaking Armstrong-Siddeley Sapphire jets, the GA 5, manufactured by Hawker-Siddeley, is a radar-equipped, all-weather, day-and-night, long-range Delta wing, claimed the first of its kind.

Throne Speech Debate Expected To Come to Speedy End in Week

OTTAWA, March 13 (CP).—The Commons is expected to end the traditional Throne-Speech debate in the coming week and then tackle government legislation and other business.

With three motions of non-confidence in the government defeated, the Commons on Monday will debate the fourth non-confidence motion, this one moved by the Social Credit Party.

The motion was moved by Robert Fair (S.C., Battle River), who charged that the government has failed to provide adequate inducement for expansion of goods production, and for maintenance of adequate means of coping with possible surplus production.

In some years the Throne-Speech debate has continued for months. This year, however, the Commons has spent only about eight days on debating the government's plans for legislation and administration as disclosed in the Speech from the Throne.

The debate produced these non-confidence motions which were defeated:

A motion by the Progressive Conservative Party calling for censure of the government because of its taxation, expenditure and inflation policies.

A motion by the C.C.F. Party criticizing the government for failing to provide a national health insurance program.

Another motion by the C.C.F. calling for establishment of a board of control over prices of livestock and dairy products.

Once the debate is finished, Finance Minister Abbott will start the ball rolling on government business. The first move likely will be to table the government's estimates for the new fiscal year, starting April 1.

Drug Addict Seeks Treatment, Claims None Available in B.C.

VANCOUVER, March 15 (CP)—An admitted narcotics addict, 25-year-old Eddie Jones, today made a plea for an immediate drug cure.

Jones was given his freedom Friday on the understanding he try for a cure. He had been charged with theft—a theft he committed so he could buy narcotics.

In an interview today he said he had found that "a legal cure is impossible in British Columbia."

"I've tried for a phony committal to mental hospital. They won't take an addict. I'm trying to get put in as a psychopath so I can get treated," he said.

Bootleg cures are available. Jones says he tried for one, but he hasn't sufficient money or contacts.

Jones, who was married recently, told of failures to cure himself.

"I locked myself in a room and threw away the key," he explained in telling of a recent attempt to shake the craving.

He was found unconscious in his room. Taken to hospital he was refused admission.

He has served prison sentences and got what the addicts call the cold turkey cure—the withholdinig of carcotics.

"But it didn't kill the urge," he said.

The British Columbia government has plans for a rehabilitation centre for addicts, in perhaps two years.

"I'd like to be first in line, but I can't wait two years," said Jones. "Ill lose my wife, my happiness, everything. I know that."

Oddities

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP).—With a solemnity not due to the surroundings, a police confidential squad slipped quietly into an upper east side funeral chapel last night and arrested 36 men.

Thirty-five of them were alleged to be playing dice alongside a candle-decked altar.

The other was the owner, Anthony Piragnoli, 63, who, police said, got $25 a night for the use of his chapel for gambling.

The raiders seized a large table, five pairs of dice and other paraphernalia.

Shelley's Ghost Seen in Italy

SAN TERENZO, Italy, March 15 (AP).—This little fishing town where Percy Bysshe Shelley wrote his last poems is agog with stories that his ghost has came back to haunt the house where he lived.

Two elderly residents of the house say they have been awakened on stormy nights by his spectre at their bedside.

Shelley was drowned when his small boat was caught in a squall near here in 1822. His friend, Lord Byron, had him cremated. Byron said Shelley's heart would not burn, and he saved it from the flames and had it buried in the Protestant cemetery at Rome.

The story of the ghost has gained credence here because of the repute of the two who say they saw it.

They are Antonio Ratti, father-in-law of the French vice-consul to La Spezia; and Ida Ratti, Antonio's wife.

War Leader Of R.C.A.F. Dies in Boston

OTTAWA, March 15 (CP).—The two men who led the R.C.A.F. overseas during the Second World War have died within three weeks of one another.

The second to die was Air Chief Marshal Lloyd S. Breadner. He was 58.

Air Marshal Breadner commanded the R.C.A.F. at home from 1940 to 1943, and built up the Commonwealth training scheme. Later, he went overseas to direct the force through the latter part of the war.

He died Friday night in a Boston hospital, just three weeks after the death of Air Marshal (Gus) Edwards.

Defense Minister Claxton, in a tribute, said, "Canada has lost one of her outstanding airmen of all time."

Mr. Claxton said Air Marshal Breadner was largely responsible for the fine record of the R.C.A.F. and the great contribution to the allied cause made by the British Commonwealth air training plan.

College Hears License Appeal

VANCOUVER, March 15 (CP).—The case of Dr. Steven Norvell who seeks a permanent license to practise in British Columbia today is before the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Lynn Gunn, college secretary, denied charges that Dr. Norvell was refused permission to write examinations for a license because he was a pacifist and because there are too many doctors in B.C.

Dr. Gunn said the hearing was called because "new evidence has come to our attention." He did not disclose details of the evidence.

Decision in the case may not be made public for several days. Dr. Norvell came from Oklahoma a year ago to answer a 16-year-old plea for medical services in the Arrow Lakes district and was granted a temporary license. He has been unable to get a permanent one.

THE LAMP IN THE WINDOW

PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

Symbolic of the earlier days of Canadian pharmacy was the lighted lamp in the drug-store window. All through the night it glowed, a beacon of hope, a symbol of unselfish service. It identified the drug store as a haven of refuge, promised relief and comfort to the sick and afflicted. Pharmacy has in its heritage many glorious traditions, of which the lamp in the window is but one. Although the historic lamp is now practically extinct, the fundamentals of pharmaceutical practice have changed very little. The responsibilities of the pharmacist are greater today than ever before. We are ready and eager to shoulder these responsibilities in your behalf. When a prescription must be filled, let us serve you.

Court Approves Wife-Chaining

MONDOVI, Italy, March 15 (AP).—It's no crime to keep your wife in chains, a local court decided today.

Andrea Vicino had been arrested for keeping his 50-year-old wife chained in her bedroom every evening for several months.

When the case came up for trial, the couple's four children sided with their father. Their mother had taken to going out at night, they said. Vicino decided to use chains to keep her from her nocturnal wanderings.

Four Survive Collision at Sea

VANCOUVER, March 15 (CP).—Four persons are safe today after their motorboat was in collision with an unidentified tug in Malaspina Strait, near Powell River, 70 miles northwest of here.

A radio report from the tug Seymour Narrows said it had towed the damaged motorboat to Stillwater, 18 miles south of Powell River.

The tug that collided with the motorboat was not identified. It failed to stop after the accident.

Occupants of the motorboat, none of whom were identified, escaped injury.

Last of Bandit Trio Held As Boyd Captured in Bed

TORONTO, March 15 (CP).—The climax to a tale of blood and vengeance came in Toronto today when police captured Edwin Alonzo Boyd, one of the country's most wanted criminals.

Steel-jacket detectives made a sunrise raid on a Toronto apartment and captured Boyd while he was still in bed.

Police said Boyd's 31-year-old burnette wife and a newspaper advertisement led to his downfall.

Detectives trailed the woman for a week, knowing that sooner or later she would lead them to Boyd's hideout. The advertisement was a "car for sale" two-liner on a classified page. It offered a 1919 English-type car for $850 and gave a telephone number. Police had been watching for such an advertisement.

In Boyd's apartment were found letters addressed to newspapers but never mailed. One said: "Start guarding your families, for I am no longer a respecter of persons—keep out of my way and avoid bloodshed."

It was signed by Boyd.

He has been charged with escaping custody, two recent bank robberies, having offensive weapons and the theft of a car. About $25,000 in cash was found in his apartment. Boyd and Leonard Jackson broke out of Toronto's Don Jail last November.

Jackson and Steve Suchan were arrested after two gun battles in Montreal. They are wanted on similar charges, plus a charge of attempted murder in connection with the shooting of two Toronto detectives.

P.G.E. in the Air

IT IS a curious fact, but one can be right for the wrong reasons. That seems to be the position Premier Johnson occupies when he favors abandonment now of the plan to complete the P.G.E. between Squamish and North Vancouver by rail. The premier unfortunately goes further and advocates construction of a highway there instead. Politically, that may be a bow towards North and West Vancouver, up in arms over the prospect of anything so useful as a railway crossing their territories, but it is a clear reversal of the Coalition program upon which Mr. Johnson and his associates were elected. "Completion" of the P.G.E. cannot be achieved by leaving it stuck at Squamish, while millions have been spent to take it north from Quesnel.

Yet, the premier is right in one thing. The rump government, all that now is left of the Coalition, certainly has no mandate to carry out major new projects in the brief interval between its own demise and the election of its successor at the polls this summer. It is far better to wait and have the next step in whatever is to be the P.G.E.'s future traced out in the new legislature when it is elected.

Conversely, Mr. E. C. Carson, former minister of public works, in challenging the stand of Premier Johnson on this matter, seems wrong for the right reasons. Consistency demands that an administration adhere to its announced program. To depart from that, even in the state of suspension of policy which necessity implies, means to be accused of vacillation. Why a highway, rightly, asks Mr. Carson when the whole object of touching the P.G.E. at all was to complete it by taking it somewhere at both ends. So for the moment the issue rests, with the "terminus" at Squamish.

Politically, of course, both Liberals and Progressive Conservatives will have to make up their several minds on this as well as many other issues before they take to the hustings, both in suburban Vancouver and elsewhere. Here in essence, is a practical example of why only an early election can repair the break in a parted harness and restore a government with authority in power.

Planning a Community

SOME truisms were spoken at the annual conference of British Columbia division of the Community Planning Association in Victoria last week; but truisms or not, they need to be repeated and translated into action if past omissions and mistakes are to be avoided in future. Lack of foresight and faulty planning, where there was any planning at all, have produced one of the bugbears of all British Columbia's larger cities today; and some of the smaller and fast-growing centres are headed for the same kind of trouble if they fail to give thought to the future consequences of insufficiently planned development now.

One does not need to look beyond Victoria, however, for examples of ills inherited from days of unregulated expansion, resulting in commercial, industrial and residential growth being inextricably mixed. Traffic movement suffers strangulation on many streets because of incomprehensible jogs and contractions, and the fact that road allowances were not made wide enough in the first place. A waterfront that could have been one of the most beautiful in the world is fringed with factories, warehouses and wharves that are the antithesis of aesthetic appeal.

These are some of the physical evidences of Topsy-like growth. There are other and less obvious marks of lack of cohesive development among neighboring municipalities in their common interests. It is towards the development of the community as a whole in place of the separate and some times conflicting planning of its component parts that the Community Planning Association directs its main endeavor. This is an aspect of the broad and in many ways complicated subject of urban expansion to which the corporations of Greater Victoria could pay closer attention. They may prefer to retain their autonomy, but they cannot escape the inter-relationship of their interests.

Totem-Pole Land

MR. FRANK CALDER added a subtle touch to his mantle in the legislature the other day when he addressed the house in his native tongue, and later interpreted his remarks for those who are "new" in his country. Although no doubt gently meant, the implication added pique to what the young Indian member had to say about tourist attractions.

He made a nice point when he said that a totem-pole design on a motor license was all very well, but didn't carry the magic touch. Even though B.C.'s real totem is fast becoming a matter of electric power and vast industrial expansion, he hit a certain nail on the head. The word "Totemland" was what he would substitute for the present unclear design.

It is all too true that Indian totem-poles have merely been removed from their setting as a tourist lure, and that without a guide to explain what they stand for a visitor to any one of the various public park collections goes away none the wiser. Thunderbird Park is a good example of what Mr. Calder had in mind.

If the tourist trade is to be drawn to this province by Indian lore and legend then there may be virtue in suggesting that tourists should be enabled to see at first hand, on their own ground, the creators of the totem-poles. This might at least cause some improvement in the amenities of Indian reservations, whose infelicities cannot all be laid at the inhabitants' doors. It might also serve to rebut the implications of the word "new," which is by no means offset by the gesture of allowing Indians into beer parlors.

Irrespective of his political affiliations Mr. Calder will prove to be a valuable member of the legislature if he does nothing else but keep the record straight as to his forebears, and works indefatigably on behalf of his own people. Not often enough have they had a champion who could be heard in the right quarters.

TOFINO AIRPORT

Sir.—After reading the article by Bill Mayor on the government's attempt to undermine wages relative to the above, I felt I should ease the public mind on at least one point.

In paragraph five it states, "Men employed as carpenters at Tofino are in fact, subsistence farmers and fishermen waiting to go to sea." I checked on the latter and found that I was all of them, one, that is all. I receive full wage rates.

As far as I have seen, there is no waste, no squandering, no incompetence. I don't think it would be tolerated.

The few civilians employed appear to be honest men who appreciate the opportunity to work and earn an honest living.

R. K. STOTT.

Ucluelet, B.C.

STRAW VOTING

Sir.—It would appear that the provincial election campaign has already started. The wheels are in motion. Today a lady with a notebook and a "sales smile" called at my home to bluntly ask whether I would likely be voting for a particular political party at the next election. "A straw vote inquiry," said she.

When challenged about her true object, she admitted nonchalantly that she wanted to appeal for favorable consideration of her political party. She was then politely informed that the way one plans to vote is usually treated as a private matter, and I wished her "good afternoon."

Citizens should beware of such subtle manoeuvres and unwarranted calls by misguided agents of some ambitious vote-extracting individuals.

L. H. FULLER.

Glanford Avenue, Victoria, B.C.

SUPERVISED STRIKE VOTE

Sir.—It may be a popular move in some quarters, but I cannot agree with Mr. Ash that the government should abolish the government-supervised strike vote. The contention of the labor unions that it is interference in their private affairs is untenable. Where the result may cut off public transportation or make houses too expensive for the general public to buy, for instance, it certainly is not a matter of private interest only. Public interest is very much involved. Certainly, large companies have to submit to a great deal of supervision, even their books are questioned and examined.

The interest of the individual in the union is also protected by this democratic method. It gives him a chance to express his real views freely, which might be quite contrary to that of his leaders here and in the United States. It is wrong in principle to deny a man a secret vote. Many men might be rather timid and afraid to stand up and be counted in the face of a powerful executive on the platform, and thus would be denied the chance of freely expressing their views.

Let us preserve the right of all to the democratic system we have so painfully evolved. If there is nothing to hide, there is nothing to lose in a secret vote held with all the confidence that supervision will give.

M. P. PAINE.

715 View Street, Victoria, B.C.

SUPPLYING ARMS

Sir.—Your editorial "The Deadliest of Ironies" accurately reveals the double-faced role played by Russia in regard to Korea. On the other hand, it has never been suggested that Russian weapons have been presented gratis to the Koreans or to the Chinese, since it is a well-known fact that internationally speaking, the Soviets pursue a more than parsimonious policy.

So, let us say, they are selling arms to an enemy of the United Nations. The situation is still ironic, even with the saving grace of commercialism, but it is an unfortunate fact that there are many precedents for such despicable behaviour. Were there not Franco-German iron mines supplying both sides in the First World War, and wasn't British ore going to Germany via Sweden? And in the Second World War were there not rumors of scrap iron being sent to Japan from Victoria?

It is a platitude that war, in addition to bringing out what is noblest in man, also reveals his most ignoble attributes.

E. SELLARS-ST. CLARE.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

THIS may not be the most beautiful city in Canada, and I would feel happier if they dropped this boastful slogan from radio announcements, but . . .

A commissionaire who does security guard duty in the dockyard tells me that when he stands atop Signal Hill and looks around him he catches his breath.

Let me see, now.

Looking across the mouth of Esquimalt Harbor his eyes fall on the forest hills of Sooke, always so pleasant a vista. When he inclines left the waters of Royal Roads shimmer away seemingly to the snow-clad Olympics, the U.S.A.'s majestic gift to Victorians. No city has a better front-drop.

My friend turns right, perhaps, and savors the generous sweep of the harbor itself, saucered in gentle slopes and rich with little inviting bays. His eyes drop and he admires the trim navy craft lying at peace or plying proudly to and fro. Across the bay the drydock adds its imposing presence.

"A fine sight," he says. And he is so right.

Yes, you remark, but that is Esquimalt, not Victoria—and you are so right too. And more's the pity.

What was old James Douglas doing when he cast anchor at Camosun instead of in this wide splendid basin, although of course he was not so old and had other fish to fry. It was not for him to worry about people a century later.

But I wish he had turned the Beaver in past Duntze Head, nameless though that point then was. What a city Victoria would be if it ringed Esquimalt Harbor—begging Esquimalt's pardon—provided industry hadn't co-opted and tarred most of the setting, as it does along so many God-given waterfronts.

But small blame to Sir James, even if this might have made our radio slogan more excusable.

His successors of 100 years later are little more concerned with their successors, and without prejudice to town planning boards trying to work miracles it doesn't seem in their nature to do so.

Our higgledy-piggledy narrow streets now, for instance, that run in all sorts of quaint (and picturesque) directions. These weren't laid down for motor traffic but grew like Topsy, hence current chagrin. They are a millstone legacy. But, of course, Victorians of 75, 50 years ago didn't, couldn't, foresee the mechanical age, not being fey. Live for today was—and more or less had to be—their motto.

I don't really note a much different viewpoint now. The roads we build, the streets we straighten, the buildings we put up, are designed to serve us and not our great-grandchildren. We can't see any more than could James Douglas what things will be like, and what amenities will be most desirable a hundred years from now.

And do we care much? I doubt it.

If we did we might be loath to leave behind such ever-growing legacies as overhead wiring to plague our descendants. We might search more diligently for ways of building dams that would not rob them of nature's playgrounds.

In fact Douglas and company and their immediate successors were angels compared to us, for if we keep on as we're doing it's apt to be a barren land we hand on to posterity.

Imagine this whole world, indeed, in say 500 years' time! All those marvelous natural resources used up, not a tree-top to be seen in British Columbia. Well, maybe that will be fate's way of giving the country back to the Indians.

Only they'll have to live on pills of some kind or another.

An exaggeration? Maybe. None of us can be quite sure, I suppose. But why should we worry anyway?

Which, of course, is the source of all this discussion. We are too full of our own problems to care overmuch what's going to happen to our descendants. It has always been thus and probably always will be.

Still, I'm sorry James Douglas was fascinated by Camosun instead of Esquimalt. Although, mind you, I like the view from Beacon Hill just about as well as the commissionaire does the view from Signal Hill.

After all, I am a Victorian, and what was it Kipling said and that radio fellow still says . . .?

B.C.'s Weird Liquor Laws

By SETH HALTON

ONE WONDERS sometimes how the liquor laws that prevail in Canada, except in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, have endured so long.

They don't prohibit drinking, but make it difficult. They discourage moderation. They make it illegal to listen to pleasant music while you drink, or benefit from the sobering and filling effect of food.

Where once men stood at a bar to indulge, they are now compelled to sit at a table where the added comfort is an inducement to stay longer and drink more.

And the inequity of the law, particularly in British Columbia, is shocking. If you belong to a club you can drink spirits intelligently, as you may at home; otherwise you drink in beer parlors, hotel bedrooms, cars and back alleys.

If you are going to a dance where a certain social status is maintained, you can carry a bottle to your table openly and drink with impunity even with encouragement. At other places where meals and dancing are available the first sign of a bottle brings a crying proprietor or a policeman. And there are the in-betweens where everyone knows that almost everyone else has a bottle, but every bottle is discreetly concealed.

This is known as the under-the-table technique, now in general use in all the social strata. It is only dangerous when the constabulary has indigestion, or in establishments which have fallen from grace.

All this started during the First World War when legislation prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages was passed, as a war policy, in all the provinces. Except in Quebec, the prohibition included beer and wine.

Soon after the war repeal started, but in most provinces it was only partial. Liquor could be sold in government stores by the bottle, and generally beer by the glass could be obtained. British Columbia and Quebec, in 1921, led the way. Manitoba took the same course in 1923, Alberta in 1924, Saskatchewan in 1925 and so on. Now even New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island sell spirits through government stores, though they still do not permit beer by the glass.

During the dismal years the beer parlor became a symbol of the land. Years before I ever entered one, I used to notice on the prairies that every small town had a church, a general store, a grain elevator and a beer parlor, which the better people declined to enter. No wonder! The parlors were often dirty and always restrictive; so unreasonably restrictive that in the large cities of Alberta men and women are not allowed to drink in the same room. Yet in the smaller towns they can!

But at last our thinking is changing. It may be that the last war had a profound influence on us. Thousands of Canadians in the United Kingdom and Europe had a chance to see for themselves that where alcohol is available at reasonable times and in pleasant surroundings people have learned to use it intelligently. I was in London on V-E day, when the pubs received an increase in their beer quota and there was great gaiety, but no disturbances. In Halifax the same day the liquor stores were shut tight and there were riots.

Ontario has led our thinking since the war. In a bold step, bitterly opposed by the drys, that province instituted cocktail lounges for the consumption of all alcoholic drinks on premises where food is available.

The plan was a marked success. Because people can have a drink on their way home without buying a whole bottle the consumption of alcohol has actually declined.

I know a man, and I'm sure there were many like him, who had never used sugar in tea in his life until wartime rationing started. Then he used his share. And I know people who bought liquor for the first time during the war because it was rationed.

The same lesson of availability can be applied to cocktail lounges.

Certainly the plebiscite which the government is pledged to conduct at the forthcoming election should contain a local option clause. It was pointed out in the legislature last week that Vancouver, with strong voting power, could otherwise force cocktail bars on many small communities which did not want them. Even the Canadian Restaurant Association agrees, and has inserted local option into its proposal for the wording of the plebiscite.

In fact the restaurateurs' proposal might well be accepted. It reads: "Do you favor, on the basis of local option, the sale of liquor by the glass, with meals, in hotels, restaurants and other eating establishments?" The association goes on to describe the types of licenses that should be issued, covering beer parlors as they now exist, cocktail lounges on premises where food is served, and others.

This seems to be along the lines of popular thinking. In any case a plebiscite is the way to prove it.

Playing With Sudden Death

(From The Ottawa Journal)

AN OTTAWA boy of 13, playing with a strange metal contraption which he thought was from an old washing machine and could be adapted to a model airplane, was killed instantly when the thing exploded—he had told a friend he was going to take it apart to see what made it tick.

It was a three-inch mortar bomb, a "souvenir" of the Second World War and kicking around a neighbor's household ever since.

It is explained that the explosive charge had deteriorated in 10 years—that if it had contained its original strength the whole apartment house instead of only part of it might have tumbled in ruins. But the object retained so much power that if, for example, this lad had taken it to school it might have exploded there with dreadful effects. Or if it could have blown up in a tram or bus.

There ought to be some way to stop the preservation of live shells and bombs as souvenirs. This is not the first time inquisitive boys have been blasted by a shell or a bomb misplaced or forgotten by those who should have had it in safe keeping.

It is just beyond belief that any adult would take a live bomb into his home, or any bomb which to his certain knowledge had not been made harmless, and let it be used as a door stop, shown to visitors as a curious relic of the war, left in the way of inquiring youngsters—it is like domesticating a cobra. Familiarity breeds contempt—contempt in its turn may breed catastrophe.

There will be an inquiry into the Arlington Avenue tragedy. It should include a study of methods pursued by the services to safeguard their live ammunition through checks and records, to see whether there is any neglect or carelessness on their part which could put human life in peril.

Victoria in Beard and Crinoline

From Files of The Daily British Colonist of March, 1865

By G. E. MORTIMORE

JOHN BARLEYCORN was in the news. The Daily British Colonist praised some Victoria beer brewed from home-made malt. Saloonkeepers wailed to the Legislative Assembly that too many new bars were being licensed.

"If any person is desirous of ascertaining what home industry can produce, let him call at the corner of Wharf and Fort Streets, and taste the bitter beer last brewed at the Lion Brewery from Island grown barley and English hops.

"We should not deem it necessary to point out to our readers any particular place where a good article can be had, but for the fact that we learned on enquiry that until this season the brewers have had to get the whole of their supply of grain from California, and often found it most inferior.

"Last year, however, Messers. Elliott and Stuart imported a supply of seed barley from England which was sown on the Island and their last superior brew is the produce of it.

"This spring that enterprising firm, who certainly deserve great credit for thus seeking to stimulate home production, have made arrangements for having from 400 to 500 acres of barley sown purposely to supply their brewery. The value of the growth at present rates would amount to about $21,000.

"We are glad to find that our colonial beer is appreciated in foreign markets. The Oregon took down on her last trip to San Francisco 15 hogsheads, and from Honolulu large orders have been lately received."

In that happy age, breweries relied on producing good beer to make money. They were content with free enterprise. Breweries had not yet created monopolies at the public expense, or put pressure on the government to prevent competition.

However, the dealers who sold beer and liquor by the glass were already asking the government to protect them.

"A petition signed by 34 of the principal retail liquor dealers in this city was yesterday laid before the Legislative Assembly by Mr. Cochrane. The document stated that the petitioners had laid out a great deal of their means in fitting up permanent establishments, that the system of monthly licensing courts was unjust to the bona fide trader and not needed by the country, and that there were enough licenses issued at present . . ."

The tavernkeepers asked that licensing courts be held only once or twice a year. "The petition was laid on the table. The only course to meet the prayer of the petition will be for some honorable member to bring in a bill to amend the Liquor Law."

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

THERE IS a sort of eager obedience in nature. Everything in nature, save man, toes the mark. Very shortly we will be able to walk in the woods and see the performance of the first act of spring. In eastern and central Canada it is the flowering of the trilliums and dog-tooth violets or fawn lilies, as they are better called. In the west, closely related species serve to raise the curtain.

The carpet of the woods consists of apparently little else than these two or three plants. They possess the soil. You walk ankle deep through the fresh, rich foliage of trillium and fawn lily, countless thousands of them, all burdened with their flowers.

A few weeks later, when June comes, you walk in the same woods, and you have to search and peer to see even a few of the now-flowerless, retired trilliums and fawn lilies. They have had their turn. They are obedient. They have withdrawn from the scene, under new and abundant species that were not to be seen at all while the first-comers had the stage. Their leaves seem to have shrunk in size, and are ever so much fewer in number.

Some of the philosophers of nature stress the struggle of nature, offering us the picture of a pitiless struggle between species that another one another eat one another, in an endless war of survival. If some species do, they are merely obeying laws. But in nature also is this synthesis or processional ritual, in which one creature, plant or animal, follows another, with time allowed for all, a perfect program. If they eat one another, it is for the common good. If they wantonly destroy one another, it is for the common good. Man, of course, is different. He plans to let nothing eat except those things he proposes to eat himself.

"I'm very happy to inform you that your husband has passed the crisis," said the English doctor to a woman whose husband was seriously ill.

"Passed the crisis?" she demanded. "You told me 'e couldn't live a week."

"Well, I'm going to cure him after all," said the physician. "Surely you are glad!"

The woman nodded slowly. "I suppose so," she admitted, "but it puts me in a bit of an 'ole. I've bin an' sold all 'is clothes to pay for the funeral."

Foot Badly Hurt

An Esquimalt youth was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital with a badly smashed foot last night.

Peter Thorburn, 18, a crew member aboard the tug Burrard Chief of the Island Tug and Barge Co., was operated on for a smashed foot, caught in a propeller shaft at about 6 p.m.

Thorburn's home is at 1278 Park Terrace.

Ammunition Magazine Planned at Rocky Point

The Royal Canadian Navy has confirmed an earlier report that an ammunition storage magazine is to be established on property at Rocky Point.

Work is expected to start within a few weeks.

British and U.S. practises have been given careful study by Ordnance Capt. W. G. Ross, R.C.N., director-general of naval ordnance, and his staff, and plans for the Rocky Point magazine [illegible] of both.

Navy officials stress that design and placement of buildings and equipment will provide maximum safety and efficiency in the handling and storage of ammunition.

Capacity of the present naval magazine at Colwood, on the west shore of Esquimalt harbor, has been limited to less than minimum requirements of the expanding West Coast fleet as a result of an expanding surrounding residential area.

Provision will be made at the new magazine site for an administrative section in addition to actual storage area. Included will be offices, garages, residences, workshops, a main guard house and a new modern laboratory where ammunition can be serviced, tested and repaired.

Dock Rates Raised At Ogden Point

DOCKING rates at Ogden Point have been doubled from five to 10 cents a foot for deepsea ships.

Harbor authorities say it is the first boost in Ogden Point dock charges for 30 years. The rate applies to an eight-hour period, and footage covers a ship's overall length.

Bishops Meet April 25 To Choose Archbishop

"On the morning of that day, April 27, the new Bishop of Yukon, Rev. T. Greenwood, will be consecrated in the Victoria cathedral, and I anticipate the attendance of 11 visiting bishops for the occasion."

Social Crediters Full of Confidence

By FRANK MEADE

Social Crediters are smirking at Progressive Conservative chieftain Herbert Anscomb's belief that the C.C.F. constitutes his party's biggest threat in the next provincial election.

That is what Mr. Anscomb said at Nanaimo last night, apparently unaware that Social Crediters say they already have made great inroads into his own gilt-edged constituency of Oak Bay.

Whether or not they have a right to smirk will be seen on Wednesday, when they hold a rally at Willows School.

Unobtrusively building their membership in the Greater Victoria area over the past year, and taking full advantage of the Coalition rift, Social Credit leaders say they have picked up a phenominal number of adherents.

MORE THAN 400

Ron B. Worley, ex-Young Liberal and now chairman of the Vancouver Island Social Credit area council, said yesterday Victoria membership in his adopted party has grown to more than 400 from a mere handful a year ago.

Three groups have been formed in the city since New Year's; six Esquimalt groups within a year, and, in Oak Bay, the party has a large association, ready to split into two segments, he said.

Saanich also has three groups.

W. N. Chant, who, with William Aberhart, helped form the first Alberta Social Credit government in 1935, will run in Esquimalt for the party in the provincial election.

The former Alberta agriculture minister is the only Social Crediter to be nominated so far, but a convention on April 15 will select three candidates for Victoria.

Given only slighting reference, if any, by the Liberals, Progressive Conservative's and C.C.F.'ers in the House, Social Crediters are confident they will be a power in the next legislative assembly.

BIGGEST IN B.C.

Mr. Chant says his party has more paid-up members than any other political party in B.C.

On Vancouver Island alone, the provincial trend of a 36-fold increase in dues-paying members within three years is being maintained, he claims.

There will be at least one Social Credit candidate for every one of the Island constituencies in the provincial election.

Already, Nanaimo, Parksville, Port Alberni and Ladysmith have healthy Social Credit groups, and an Island council has been formed to co-ordinate the work of the units.

Over-all strategy will be molded during a provincial convention on the Mainland sometime between the dissolution of the legislature and the election.

W. A. C. Bennett, only Social Crediter in the House, has remained smug throughout the barrage of jibes from his former Progressive Conservative compatriots during this session.

He has been equally unmoved by the taunts of Liberal and C.C.F. members.

COY BUT COMFORTABLE

Mrs. Tilly Rolston, who joined him in his famous bolt from party ranks at the last session, has coyly admitted she "feels at home" among Social Crediters, but says she will make up her mind later.

Advance electioneering publicity indicates that Social Crediters will be content to point to their Prairie record; promise businesslike government; soft-pedal the "funny money" backbone of their movement, and let it go at that.

Victoria, certainly not the place a party with revolutionary tendencies could hope to find root, will have a Social Credit campaign office soon.

So confident are Social Crediters of administering a political Hiroshima among their apparently indifferent political foes that they plan to open another office, in Oak Bay.

Mrs. A. Cross, 86, Dies at Home

Mrs. Amelia M. Cross, 86, a Victoria resident for 52 years, died at her home at 1596 Yale Street Friday.

Born in Wales, Mrs. Cross came to British Columbia from Ontario in 1890. She resided in New Westminster and Nanaimo before moving to Victoria in 1900.

She is survived by two sons, Cyril H. and Francis S., and four daughters, Mrs. B. Brosseau, Pioneer Mine; Mrs. W. Riley, California; Mrs. C. Bellamy, Vancouver, and Mrs. H. Cole, Victoria.

Funeral service will be conducted by Ven. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns from Hayward's Funeral Chapel on Monday at 3 p.m. Burial will follow in Royal Oak Burial Park.

Strike Affects Atomic Plant

PADUCAH, KY., March 15 (AP). — A walkout of A.F.L. laborers led to a work stoppage at the Paducah atomic energy plant today. About 15,000 workers were made idle. Work also was halted among 2,500 employees at an electric plant being built at nearby Joppa, Ill., to supply power for the atomic energy plant. Two A.F.L. unions — the pipefitters and teamsters—were reported involved in the Joppa jurisdictional dispute.

Shamrocks to Grow Wild Tomorrow

Shamrocks — or shillelaghs — will rule tomorrow.

For it's St. Patrick's Day, the day the Irish take over, wherever they may be. And if you don't join in the celebration there may be a fight.

The shamrocks and green ties and other symbols associated with the great day will be proudly displayed as Canadian Irish, and Irish the world over, commemorate the death of the saint who brought Christianity to Ireland.

In Victoria the signs — and they included green candy snakes—pointed to the most sentimental observance of the day on record.

The snake idea of a Victoria candy man was in the nature of poking a bit of gentle fun at the Irish—everybody will hear again before the day is out how St. Patrick drove the snakes out of the green isle.

SNAKES SELL WELL

But the snakes were selling well, and the chocolate pigs and pipes — that candymaker was really taking chances — had been cleaned off the shelves late Saturday. The famous sacks of candy "Murphies" were still holding out.

Biggest sale of St. Patrick's Day cards in history was also reported. Some dealers had sold stocks out completely as the Irish prepared to send each other [illegible]

Pots of shamrock — grown from seed imported from Blarney — were also being snapped up as presents, and you could probably find a green carnation if that was your fancy.

The florist was having his joke, too. He was displaying porous plaster heads with faces allegedly Irish in appearance.

The heads were filled with water, and if you'll believe it, real grass was growing all over the skulls like green hair.

So this city was ready for the celebration even if the Montreal Irish were boasting about a big parade today, staged by the United Irish societies.

HALLOWED SPOT

Among special events this year is a British Broadcasting Corporation program direct from ancient St. Patrick's Church at Saul, County Down. The church stands on the hallowed spot where St. Patrick preached his first sermon after landing in Ireland in A.D. 432.

The great missionary founded an estimated 365 churches and baptized 12,000 persons during his years in Ireland.

He banished all venomous creatures from the land and made the shamrock an immortal emblem, when he used it to explain the Holy Trinity to the Irish.

A story not often told about St. Patrick still has a vivid influence on modern day folklore. Some historians credit him with establishing the Leap Year custom that permits a woman to do the proposing.

JUST ONE DAY

According to the legend, he didn't grant women the whole year to operate in, but only the extra day of Leap Year—Feb. 29.

On that day they could propose. If the man refused he had to buy the disappointed woman a silk gown.

And there are those who say the shillelagh was invented when one man tried to welch on the deal.

B.C.-Washington Civil Defense Plans Cited as Example of Co-operation

Civil defense preparations between British Columbia and the northwestern United States can stand as an example of co-operation, a U.S. official said yesterday.

Roger Dunham, director of defense in the four northwestern states, complimented the province and Washington State as being the first to begin mutual plans and expressed the hope that others would do the same.

Mr. Dunham was attending the joint civil defense conference between British Columbia and Washington State, held Friday and yesterday in Victoria.

R. A. Pennington, chairman of the B.C. advisory council on civil defense, told the meeting he expected joint B.C.-Washington State exercises would be held within a few weeks, increasing in scope during later months.

No public participation will be sought until all schemes are working smoothly, he said.

Committees yesterday discussed planning and communications, power facilities, transportation, police, health and medical facilities, welfare, fire services, and customs and immigration.

FULL ASSISTANCE

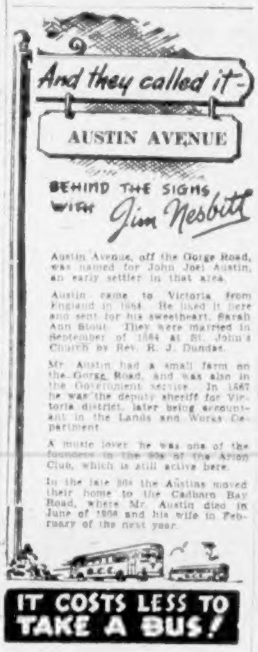
Admiral D. E. Barbey (Ret.), who heads Washington State civil defense work, said it was his understanding the negotiations are being conducted between Canada and the United States to permit full mutual assistance, but only in event of an enemy attack.

The meeting was told that this province has no authority to enter itself into such a pact.

A blueprint for operations will be built on reports and recommendations of sub-committees, which will continue to meet in the province and Washington State, said deputy provincial co-ordinator Brig. G. A. McCarter. He urged committees to submit reports as soon as they were completed.

Present at the meeting also were Provincial Secretary W. T. Straith and Labor Minister John Cates, both of whom addressed the 60 delegates.



And they called it—
AUSTIN AVENUE
BEHIND THE SIGNS WITH Jim Nesbitt

Austin Avenue, off the Gorge Road, was named for John Joel Austin, an early settler in that area.

Austin came to Victoria from England in 1864. He liked it here and sent for his sweetheart, Sarah Ann Stout. They were married in September of 1864 at St. John's Church by Rev. R. J. Dundas.

Mr. Austin had a small farm on the Gorge Road, and was also in the Government service. In 1867 he was the deputy sheriff for Victoria district, later being accountant in the Lands and Works Department.

A music lover, he was one of the founders in the 80s of the Arion Club, which is still active here.

In the late 80s the Austins moved their home to the Cadboro Bay Road, where Mr. Austin died in June of [illegible] and his wife in February of the next year.

Spring's Warm Hello Days Ahead of Time

By BARNEY McKINLEY

Spring gave Victoria the big hello yesterday—five days ahead of the calendar date.

The vernal equinox—the moment when the sun crosses the equator northbound—is scheduled for 4 p.m. March 20. At 4.01 p.m. that day it will officially be spring.

But you couldn't tell by squinting into the sun yesterday that the silly season wasn't already in full bloom.

A partial inventory of spring evidence showed purple-leafed plum almost in full bloom on the boulevards, crocuses already waning a little in gardens and parks, gorse in bloom at Beacon Hill, wild Indian plum bursting into a spring dance.

Running five degrees of spring fever, the early gardener was having a field day at local supply stores. Florists reported big sales of bedding plants, grass seed (let's have a real lawn this year) and bulbs.

FROGS, BOATS, DOGS

Other clinchers on the spring arrival included the trilling of frogs, first big crowd of the year at Beacon Hill Park, boats being tried out on local waterways and two dogs reported swimming in Langford Lake.

At the Empress Hotel conservatory, where the seasons are as exotic as pheasant under glass, and are served the same way, spring was being featured in a deep purple mood.

Hotel gardeners said the blue-and-white and purple-and-white exotics growing in the conservatory were cineraria and cyclamen. Just to show how early spring really is this year, the cyclamen is planted in August to bloom the Christmas after next, the gardeners said.

Also featured was pink-blossomed hibiscus and one large lemon on the famous conservatory lemon tree.

Incidentally, people who are bracing themselves for high winds when the vernal equinox does arrive can quit walking aslant. The weather experts say records do not substantiate the theory that the equinox brings gales.

In one case, observation taken for 50 years showed quieter weather at the equinox than during the five days before or the five days after.

New Building Moves Nearer Construction

A new Metropolitan chain store at Douglas and Yates may be a step closer to first construction.

Tenders have been called for demolition of the vacant Yates Street stores. The Douglas Street section of the property was torn down a year ago.

A new L-shaped store west of the Dominion Bank branch would be built at a cost of $300,000 or more, reports said.

Construction of the new store was postponed a year ago until guarantee could be had of steel for completion of the entire project.

Morgan Rites At Duncan On Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Winifred Millicent Morgan, 66, will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in Hirst's Funeral Chapel, Duncan.

A native of Aldershot, Hampshire, England, Mrs. Morgan came to British Columbia in 1920, moving to Vancouver Island from Kamloops in 1929.

She is survived by her husband, J. A. Morgan, Cowichan Bay; one son, Stanley, in England; four daughters, Irene at home, Mrs. G. S. Orchard, Courtenay, Mrs. H. H. Jones, Shawnigan Lake, and Mrs. J. A. Barry, Courtenay; one brother, Sidney Marshallsey, England, and one sister, Mrs. Shorpus Jones, England.

Burial will be in Mountain View Cemetery, Duncan, Rev. John Law officiating.

Apprenticeship Subject of Talk

Mike Hynes, production manager of Metropolitan Press, Seattle, Washington, will speak to members of the Victoria Printing House Craftsmen at a dinner meeting in the Olde England Inn at 6.15 p.m. Thursday, on apprenticeship training.

ANNOUNCE GREATEST HORSEPOWER RANGE IN HISTORY

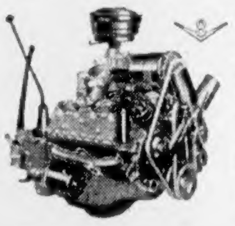
Four new mighty, truck-engineered, truck-built V-8 engines provide the greatest horsepower range in Mercury Truck history. Ranging from 106 Hp. to 155 Hp., these stamina-packed powerplants supply more power . . . more power combinations, more versatility, greater capacity, "Loadomatic" economy and even more of what-it-takes to move the loads for less.

There are over 80 models, from ½ to 5 tons, a choice of Standard or Custom cabs . . . there's everything to assure a Mercury Truck is just right for your business. AND, there is the special NEW, Mercury Truck engine—the "Super Power" 120 Hp. V-8 engine . . . it's Canada's heavy-duty champion.

GREATEST ADVANCE IN YEARS
2 HIGH-COMPRESSION LOW-FRICTION ENGINES
145 HP. "CARGO KING" AND
155 HP. "CARGO KING"

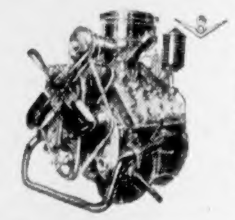
'52 Mercury Trucks introduce TWO completely new "Cargo King" engines. High-compression with regular gas; Overhead valves, Short-stroke piston design cuts piston travel up to 20%, has less friction drag. Low-friction releases 39% more power, saves up to 14% on gas.

4 BRAND NEW V-8 ENGINES



"WORLD FAMOUS" 106 HP.

There's new power, new performance in this V-type, 8-cylinder, L-head, 106 Hp. engine! Piston displacement of 239 cubic inches, compression ratio of 6.8:1. New autothermic pistons control piston-to-wall clearance . . . self-cleaning, self-turning valves add to engine efficiency. Standard in series M-1, M-3, M-4.

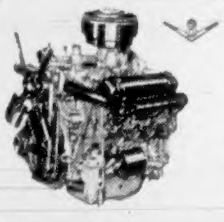


"SUPER POWER" 120 HP.

The new '52 Mercury Truck engine, Canada's heavy-duty champion! V-type, 8-cylinder, L-head, 120 Hp. at 3600 r.p.m.—developing 204 pounds foot torque at 1500-2000 r.p.m., piston displacement 255 cu. in., compression ratio 6.8:1. Available in series M-5 and M-6, Conventional and C.O.E.'s.

"CARGO KING" 145 HP.
OVERHEAD VALVE V-8

This O.H.V., V-8 engine is the most powerful, per cubic inch displacement of any of the 10 leading makes. Piston travel is reduced by 20%. New High Compression—Low Friction "Short-stroke" design saves up to 1 gallon in every seven. It develops up to 39% more horsepower per cubic inch displacement. M-7 only.



"CARGO KING" 155 HP.
OVERHEAD VALVE V-8

The most powerful engine ever built for Mercury series M-8. Designed for speed—pulling power—economy! This O.H.V., 155 Hp. powerplant has a displacement of 317 cubic inches and a ratio of 7.0:1. It has a greater load hauling ability than ever before. Saves up to 14% on gas.

Gary Kershaw Builds Route Steadily

Daily Colonist "Carrier of the Week" is Gary Kershaw, of Langford, who started as a carrier at Langford in September, 1950, with 70 subscribers and has built his route up until now he is delivering more than 100 papers each day. During this period Garry has won a number of carrier contests, the last of which earned him a trip to Seattle, by way of Nanaimo and Vancouver. He believes that the large increase in his paper route is not only due to his sales ability, but also to the fact that he delivers his route in the proper manner each day.

GARY KERSHAW.

While doing such a good job on his route, he still finds time to entertain many hobbies, the main one being music. Gary plays the saxophone in the Belmont High School band. He is also an ardent fisherman and likes football and swimming.

With the earnings from his route he manages to keep a bank account, buy all his own clothes and keep himself in pocket money.

Gary is not too sure about the future but he seems to have a leaning toward an apprenticeship in printing.

Thursday evening 36 city Colonist carriers were guests of the company at a dinner and theatre party. Carriers met at the Monterey for dinner at 5 p.m. and later attended the Plaza Theatre.

Those present were: Gorge and Esquimalt districts Walter Raby, Lawrence Houston, Bob Harrison, John Gray, Terry Merkel, Gordon Lachner, Le Ray Brobioski, Terry Nex, Jim Morgan, Byron McKenzie and Merril Slater; city and James Bay—Gordon Sinclair, Beri Lodge, Edward Woloschuk, Larry Jay, Robert Flegg, Howard Hope, Richard Austin, Jack Smith, Ralph Vannier, Joe Flackson, Allan Ritchie and D. Perry; Saanich Gordon Houston, Gerry Reimer, Walter Kennedy and Jack Anslow; Fairfield Skippy Patch, Raymond Holmes, Tom Spouse, Charles Bishop and Steve Quale; Oak Bay Ken Barnes, Ian Peace, George Vickery, Maurice Dobinson and Dennis Begg.

The carriers were accompanied by the district supervisors, D. Glancy, D. Orrick, S. Sage, E. Calder and D. K. McLeod.

Saturday afternoon the entire city carrier force of 200 boys met at the Club Sirocco to hear details of The Colonist spring jamboree and sales contest. This contest offers the junior merchants a wide variety of prizes with a Raleigh bicycle as top award and a radio as second prize. Every carrier can qualify to attend the windup of the contest, which will be a festive evening in the Sirocco, including a turkey dinner and eight acts of vaudeville.

Bryan Erb, who has been servicing customers in the Oak Bay area for the past six years, will be leaving the organization at the end of the month. He will be entering the business field with his father, E. Erb, manager of the Old English Beverages.

Congratulations to the following "brother acts," who are doing an excellent job on their country routes:

Earl Horner and his brother of Colquitz, Manny Johnson and his brother of Deep Cove, who have over 150 subscriber each day and have delivered these papers from May, 1950, without a single complaint. Earl and Edwin Mohns at Duncan, Jimmy and Jack Molyneaux of Eberts and Royal Oak, David and Dennis Thomas of the Oldfield and Keating area, Steven Sands and his brother of Mill Bay, Paul Morton and his brother of Saseenos district, Laverne and Mervin McCullagh of Sooke, ace salesmen and winners in a number of contests, the Warren brothers of Helmcken Road, View Royal.

Out Sidney way, Jim Pearson and Bob Gilbert, both use their brothers as able helpers on their routes.

Last but not least, are the brother and sister combinations of Joyce and Vincent (Sonny) Bowker at Sidney, and Caroline and William Urlacher of Langford.

We would also like to welcome the brother combination of Leonard Bell and his brother, who have just been placed on the Sayward route, and Orval and Raymond Budynski, who have taken over the delivery of The Colonist at Brentwood and Sluggetts.

Rites Tuesday For Sister At Academy

Funeral services for Sister Mary Ethelbert, 59, school teacher, who died Friday at Mount St. Mary's Hospital, will be held at 8 a.m. Tuesday, in the St. Ann's Academy chapel. Burial will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Sister Mary Ethelbert was born in Montreal, and educated at St. Ann's Academy at Lachine. She taught for several years in schools of the eastern United States before coming to British Columbia in 1920. Her teaching took her to several B.C. schools and into Alaska for a short while. Her last post was at St. Ann's Academy of New Westminster.

F. E. Winslow To Head Fund

Appointment of F. E. Winslow, O.B.E., as Victoria regional chairman of the Canadian Citizenship Council fund for 1952 was announced yesterday.

The Victoria committee has been asked to raise $1,000 toward the Canadian goal of $75,000 to foster ideals of Canadian citizenship.

There will be no public appeal for funds.

The work of the council is to stimulate good Canadian citizenship by assisting immigrants in languages and in settling into Canadian life.

Co-operating with the council are the Canadian clubs, chambers of commerce, educational authorities, veterans' organizations, service clubs, churches, labor, welfare and other national organizations.

Prices for Produce Show General Climb

Fruit and vegetable prices in the 1951-52 season have ben generally more satisfactory to the primary producer than they were last season, according to figures from the agriculture department.

A comparative table of Vancouver wholesale quotations for a selected list of items showed higher prices on seven of nine items.

Figures for the third week of February, 1952, (with the same week of 1951 in brackets): Okanagan, McIntosh apples, C grade $2.85 a box ($2.50 to $3.10); Okanagan Rome Beauty $3.25 to $3.35 a box ($2.50 to $2.60); d'Anjou pears extra fancy, $4.25 to $4.50 ($3.50 To $4.25); 50 pounds of Okanagan carrots, $3.50, ($1.50 to $1.60); 50 pounds of Manitoba turnips, $3.10 to $3.15 ($1.70 to $1.75); 100 pounds of No. 1 white B.C. potatoes, $4.85 ($1.75 to $1.90); 50 pounds of No. 1 Okanagan onions, $3.85 to $4 ($1.80 to $2.10); California celery per 80 pound crate, $4.50 to $5 ($5.25 to $5.75); and an 80-pound crate of California cabbage, $5.50 to $5.75 ($10 to $11.25).

Output of Butter Tumbles in B.C.

British Columbia butter production last month was 119,000 pounds, a drop of more than 63,000 pounds from February, 1951, the agriculture department reported yesterday.

Parentcraft Series To Start Monday

A new series of parentcraft classes will begin in the Y.W.C.A. at 2 p.m. Monday, Keith MacDonald, city health superintendent, announced yesterday.

The classes, sponsored by the Victorian Order of Nurses, the city health department and the Saanich and South Vancouver Island health department, are for fathers as well as mothers.

There will be 10 classes for mothers and three for fathers.

"More and more expectant mothers and fathers request information about our parentcraft classes," according to Miss M. Baird, district superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

"We particularly want to encourage fathers to take part in the classes, because they have an important role to fulfil as well," she said.

The mothers' classes will include lectures on pre-natal care, food planning, personal hygiene, breast feeding and baby bathing. There will also be a visit to the maternity ward of a hospital.

Last year 100 mothers and 50 fathers attended the courses.

Driver Fined In Alcohol Case

Richard Sim, 3974 Douglas Street, was fined $200 with the alternative of 15 days after he pleaded guilty yesterday in city police court to a charge of driving a motor vehicle while his ability was impaired by alcohol.

A report will be made to the superintendent of motor vehicles, Magistrate H. C. Hall said.

The specific charge was the first laid in several months, following reports by former city prosecutor James J. Proudfoot that he felt a license suspension could not be obtained with the charge.

Communications Branch Among Busiest in Division

By RAY WORMALD

The communications branch of Victoria's naval reserve is at present small in numbers, but it is one of the most active units. Members attend regular classes each Monday night, and facilities of the escort minesweeper H.M.C.S. Sault Ste. Marie are usually available for practical instruction on Wednesday evenings.

The communications men are concerned not only with increasing their own proficiency in both radio and visual signalling, but [illegible] change in procedure in their special field.

Lieut. J. L. Arnold serves as the division's communications officer. Chief instructors are Petty Officers J. Blythe (R.C.N.) and Andrew J. Kepner.

Membership in the communications branch also includes four of Malahat's Wrens. They are Elizabeth Paterson, P. Hearle, F. Martin and Nora Mitchell.

FINISHES COURSE

AB. Victor Mandryk, long-time member of Malahat, recently completed a concentrated communications course at H.M.C.S. Naden. Other members of the branch include PO. William Davis, PO. M. Scott, OS. James A. Mooney, AB. D. Bolin, OS. Arthur Inglis, OS. M. McDougall and OS. Andrew Wong.

Within the branch are opportunities for other young men interested in communication work. Inquiries would be welcomed at Malahat, or at the navy's offices in the Belmont Building.

Members of the Wren division welcomed recent news that they would have the opportunity of flying to H.M.C.S. Cornwallis for their annual two-week training session this summer.

The first christening ceremony to be held at H.M.C.S. Malahat will be held this afternoon. The honor will centre about the new son of Leading Seaman and Mrs. Jim Law.

Congratulations are going out this week to Lieut.-Cmdr. (E) William Walker, who recently received the promotion from lieutenant.

Cadets Get Cheques for Trip

Twelve Sea Cadets, selected from Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps across Canada by the National Sea Cadet committee of the Navy League, are aboard the cruiser H.M.C.S. Quebec, now on her way from Esquimalt to Halifax. To provide spending money during the five-week voyage, the Navy League presented each cadet with a cheque just before sailing. Above, Capt. F. G. Hart, R.C.N. (Ret.), Victoria, local representative of the National Sea Cadet Committee, presents Cadet CPO. W. Timko with his cheque. Looking on is Lieut. T. J. R. Cole.—(R.C.N. photo.)

Road Being Built to Clear Slide Menacing Salmon

VANCOUVER (CP) — A road 50-odd miles long is being pushed through in northern British Columbia so that a rockslide can be cleared to save millions of dollars worth of sockeye salmon.

The road starts at Hazelton, on the main line of the Canadian National Railways and cuts into the little-known northwest corner of B.C., through forest, mountains and glacier 400 miles north of Vancouver.

It clambers over bluffs at a slope of more than 30 degrees [illegible] which drop 300 feet to the Babine River.

The slide is in Babine Canyon and the full effect of it on the salmon run will not be known until 1955, when the 1951 spawn return.

The road was started last autumn, and is expected to be finished this spring. Work on the slide will begin immediately.

In a normal year 500,000 sockeye pass through the department of fisheries counting trap at Babine Lake entrance; last year only 135,000 got through. If the slide is not cleared by this summer, the loss will be great.

The 13-man crew has already covered all but 10 miles of the road.

They have found the country rich in minerals and some plan to return to the area later. Coal is plentiful, great quantities jutting out from the grey rocky bluffs.

Absorption by 75th Rumored For 5th B.C. Coast Regiment

MILITARY ACTIVITIES

By TREVOR COLLINS

Some changes are due in the commands of two regiments at the Bay Street Armory.

Official announcement of who will take over the 75th A.A. Regiment and the 5th B.C. Coast Regiment is expected from Ottawa before the end of the month.

It is understood that the three-year term of command of Lieut.-Col. W. J. Farnsworth, who commands the 75th H.A.A. Regiment, and Lieut.-Col. G. F. Paulin, commanding officer of the 5th B.C. Coast Regiment, will expire about April 1.

Speculation among military men in the armory is that other changes can also be expected in the organization of the two regiments.

Top army officials in Vancouver refuse to throw any light on the expected shuffle but one report circulating is that the 75th Regiment will absorb the 5th Regiment, which has been almost inoperative for some time.

There is no confirmation of this change and it is one of many reports causing concern to members of both units.

If the 75th H.A.A. Regiment takes over the 5th, it will be more or less a paper transaction, as the unit have very little in the way of personnel and training equipment. At most parades the 5th is lucky if 15 men answer roll call.

The 75th Heavy Anti-Aircraft unit during the past few years has grown by leaps and bounds and is now considered one of the hardest-hitting reserve artillery units in western Canada.

If the soldiers won't bother attending pay parades in the 13th Field Ambulance unit at the armory, maybe the paymaster should start appealing to the wives to drop down on Thursday night and sign for that hard, cold cash.

Anyway, the paymaster has delivered an ultimatum. If those men who didn't get paid on March 11 don't show up Thursday night they will have to wait until June for their pay.

Major R. V. Parrett has returned home from Clinton, Ont., where he attended a two-week officers' familiarization course. These courses keep army officers, both active and reserve force, up to date on the latest weapons and other military matters.

On Friday, National Film Board motion pictures will be shown in Room 311 at the armory at 2200 hours.

Bdr. R. M. Martyn is back on parade after a lengthy illness. Sgt. R. A. Ramsey is also back after a successful operation. Gunners Peter Sinclair and H. E. Simpson have started 60 days' leave. Gnr. R. Ridley has re-engaged for an indefinite period. Gnr. J. G. Quinn is the latest addition to unit strength.

The following cable addressed to the Colonel Commandant of the Royal Canadian Artillery has been received from Buckingham Palace:

"Please convey my sincere thanks to all ranks for their message of sympathy in the loss of their Captain General."

The message was signed "Elizabeth R."

Flt.-Lieut. Kenneth Norman from Edmonton is the latest addition to the staff at the local R.C.A.F. recruiting office.

He is a Second World War pilot and was born and raised in Burnaby, near Vancouver.

Flt.-Lieut. Hugh Campbell, commanding officer of the unit, may soon be returning to flying duties with the R.C.A.F.

Active Stocks Market Guide

Although Toronto figures failed to show in time for publication, a definite upward trend was noted in both Montreal and New York stock leaders.

Coincidentally, Canadian Pacific held fourth place on both lists. In Montreal, 1,586 shares changed hands with the stock closing up one-half. In New York the volume was 15,300, and the close one-quarter up.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG, March 15 (CP)—Prices generally showed a firm trend today in an active session of the Winnipeg grain exchange.

Gains across the board were stimulated by action on U.S. markets, although some early advances were reduced towards the close.

Commercial demand improved. U.S. shippers bought oats and there was export demand in barley believed connected with small amount for shipment to Holland. Processing orders were reported in flax and U.S. houses took rye.

Prices for class two and I.W.A. wheat were unchanged.

Celanese Report

Net profit of Canadian Celanese Limited for the year ended December 31, 1951 amounted to $4,832,485 equal, after preferred dividends, to $3.25 per share on the common stock, which compared with the record net profit of $6,665,071 and $4.72 per share earned on the common for the year 1950.

West Oil Jumps Ahead

TORONTO, March 15 (CP)—Western oils were the star performers Saturday at the stock market.

[illegible] metals were almost pushed off-stage as the oil shares vaulted to their second and third record highs in two successive sessions. Dealer enthusiasm pushed oils more than a point and a half higher on the exchange's indices to a peak untouched in the Toronto market's 15-year history.

Industrials and golds opened quietly to finish with slight advances while base metals dropped a quarter of a point.

The day's volume totaled 2,134,000 shares.

Ten leading oil issues—Asher, Central Explorers, Federated Petroleum, Harman Oils, Husky Oil, Leduc Consolidated, New Alger, Roxana Triad and United oil—reached new highs for the year.

On the industrial list, refining oils posted gains while steels, utilities, agricultures and liquors balanced gains and losses.

Base metals slipped steadily throughout the session.

Pressure Eased

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—The stock market shook itself free of worrisome pressures this week and managed to make a little progress under leadership of oils and railroads.

The market performance was more a demonstration of resistance than of strength, but in the end it added up to about the same thing.

Railroads, which have lagged behind the industrial segment of the market in recent weeks, got away and registered a new high for 1951-52. That gave immediate encouragement to the bullish section of Wall Street which regards the act as a signal on the buoyant side.

Railroad strength was based to a large extent on anticipation of a decision of the interstate commerce commission on higher freight rates.

But the picture was clouded by the fact that many of the rails, particularly Northern Pacific, the week's most active issue, were sought not for their rail revenue prospects but because of their oil profit potential.

At times traders and investors grabbed everything in sight that touched the Williston basin oil area in North Dakota and Montana, the oil fields of Canada, or the producing areas of California.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained only 10 cents on the week. That was the amount it advanced Saturday when it closed at $100.80 with the industrial component up 20 cents, the railroads unchanged and the utilities up 10 cents.

Volume came to 640,000 shares as compared with 660,000 shares a week ago. There were 831 individual issues on the tape of which 305 advanced and 283 declined with 15 new highs and six new lows registered for 1951-52.

Slightly Higher

MONTREAL, March 15 (CP).—Stock prices were slightly higher today on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market.

There were no wide movements and action was confined to a few selected leaders. A good number of issues traded unchanged.

Papers and senior metals moved upward, as did beverages, senior oils and carriers. Steels were unchanged and banks were inactive. Utilities and miscellaneous industrials were mixed.

Mines were mixed and trendless with movements limited to about seven cents either way. Western oils were strong and active.

Brazil is the only country in South America deriving its culture and language mainly from Portugal.

New Well Site Staked By Canada Southern

First well site has been staked by Canada Southern Oils on its holdings of 686,033 acres in the Maple Creek area of the Williston Basin sector of Saskatchewan. The staking follows recent completion of a seismograph survey. In addition to the staking of this well, the company has farmed out to a group of independents 10,240 acres in the centre of its large acreage in this area. The group will drill one well for a 50 per cent interest in the farm-out block.

Progress is reported in the joint program with Royalite Oil Company to develop the holdings in Coleville field, Saskatchewan. Since October 1, the number of successful completions has increased from one well to 33 oil wells and two gas wells. During the same period net reserves of the field to Canada Southern Oils have increased from 146,250 barrels of oil and 3,750,000,000 cubic feet of gas to 25,000,000 barrels of oil and 47,500,000,000 cubic feet of gas. Four rigs are currently operating, enabling completion of 12 wells a month. Recently, the company completed an agreement with the Saskatchewan government for the sale of gas.

With net holdings of 3,320,000 acres in western Canada, a large portion of which lies in the Williston Basin section of Saskatchewan, the company has an aggressive program planned for this spring. Financial position is more than adequate to carry out this program.

Rowan Gold Mine Stays Closed

TORONTO, March 14 (CP)—President A. W. White of Rowan Consolidated Mines, said today that although the company spent considerable funds to get ready to resume operations at its Red Lake property, it now feels it was not feasible to finance the development.

Mr. White said in his annual report:

"Hopes that the meeting of the international monetary fund in September last might favorably affect the gold market proved wrong. Under the circumstances it was not feasible to finance the development program recommended by General Engineering Company in 1950."

Stronger Dollar Not Lacking Risk

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

The past week has seen a further strengthening of the Canadian dollar in relation to its United States counterpart, and also an upward tendency on the part of the pound in comparison with both of the North American dollars.

The latter state of affairs reflects some confidence on this continent that the Tories' Mr. Butler is at last tackling the British economic problem in a forthright fash- [illegible] be that the new Chancellor of the Exchequer will manage to stabilize the pound in such a way that it will hold its own in the world market without any of the bolstering from the British treasury which has been such a costly item under the late socialist regime.

Canada's dollar strength is due to the ever-growing flow of U.S. capital into the lush Canadian fields where lumber, oil and minerals remain untouched and ripe for development.

The United States is growing short of such virgin opportunities within its own boundaries, and as is shown by the remarkable interest being taken in the Williston oil basin of the Montana-Dakotas, the United States investor is clearly looking to outside resources and growth possibilities as his safety valve against high taxation.

PROBLEM FOR VICTORIA

So with United States money pouring into Canada, we found ourselves this week with a dollar worth half a cent more than its U.S. rival. Conceivably the margin might increase until such time as it will be necessary for the Canadian to ask for a premium on even comparatively small purchases made here in U.S. dollars.

To a tourist city like Victoria this might be a serious matter, because past experience has taught that the United States visitor is very jealous of the power of his own dollar.

Last summer Victoria shops and other businesses connected with the tourist trade found that by offering a premium on U.S. dollars they were often able to complete a deal, even if the basic price was not particularly attractive.

This trading advantage has now gone, and if the Canadian dollar continues to increase in value to the extent that United States visitors will have to pay more than the marked price for their goods, then the position may well become serious.

TAXES TOO HIGH

In an editorial this week, the Financial Post of Toronto says it has received complaints of high Canadian prices from visitors. Many lines of goods here sell too high in comparison with their cost in the United States.

Last year more U.S. tourists visited Canada than in 1950 but the total spending of these visitors was less. Meanwhile, Canadian visitors to the United States increased their spending.

"If this trend continues, instead of having a substantial balance in our favor in international tourist trade we may well find we are running behind," says the Financial Post.

The Toronto paper does not believe that overcharging by a few individuals is the cause, although that can sour the trade for everyone.

The real trouble is taxation.

"On a great many commodities our taxes are very much higher than in the U.S. Tobacco products, camera supplies, sporting goods and gasoline are [illegible]

Victoria knows only too well how true is this state of affairs and how it suffers through adverse trading conditions. The devaluation of the United States dollar may indeed be something near to the last straw so far as our tourist trade merchants are concerned.

It is interesting to note that while McIntyre Porcupine rates as one of Canada's leading gold mining companies, the greater part of the value of its shares is covered by its interests in non-mining stocks.

When McIntyre on Friday rose to a new high of just over $81 this was merely reflecting the increased market value of the stocks it holds in its portfolio.

The biggest of these is its 112,000 shares in Amerada Petroleum, the volatile U.S. company whose shares have jumped spectacularly recently to about $225.

The market value of Amerada shares to McIntyre is $19,750,000.

Add to this the McIntyre holdings in Standard Oil of New Jersey ($6,186,000), International Nickel ($4,450,000), Bell Telephone ($2,673,000) and also to lesser degree in American Metal, American Telegraph and Telephone, Consolidated Natural Gas, General Electric, Standard Oil of California, U.S. Steel and Youngstown Steel.

These shares are worth at current market valuation $38,314,000. In addition, McIntyre holds $6,000,000 in government bonds, while another $20,000,000 is the value of its subsidiary mining companies. Add the physical assets of McIntyre and the total value of the stock reaches the sum of $80 per share.

In other words the break-up value of McIntyre at $81 per share is almost entirely covered by the holdings of the company, with the McIntyre valuable gold-mining business thrown in just for good measure.

The tunneling and drilling of Rossland Mining Co. have established considerable extra tonnage to the proven ore on the property, is is reported by Ed Lovett, general manager.

On the upper-level tunnel 205 feet of ore has been opened, increasing the tonnage from 8,000 to 40,000 tons.

The estimated value of this ore is $11 per ton net.

On the lower workings where the overcropping has been removed, a new tunnel has struck ore at a depth of 45 feet.

The Rossland mines are an extension of the old Consolidated Mining Co.'s operations near the city of Rossland.

General Motors Extends Factory

OSHAWA, Ont., March 14 (CP)—A new $10,000,000 truck assembly plant for Oshawa was announced today by William A. Wecker, president of General Motors of Canada Limited.

The plant will have a production capacity of 50,000 units a year. The building will increase G.M.'s existing factory floor space in Oshawa by 25 per cent, bringing the total to about 83 acres.

GOLD SILVER TIP SILVER
SILVER TIP GOLD MINES LIMITED (N.P.L.)
Offers for Subscription 500,000 Treasury Shares at a Price of 25c per Share

The Company owns six Crown-Granted mineral claims and two claims held by location in one group in the Portland Canal Mining District in British Columbia. The property is 21 miles by road from Stewart, B.C., and is 8 miles by road from Silbak-Premier Mines Limited.

During the past six years seasonal development has opened up one ore shoot on the May P. J. vein estimated by A. Kirby, Jr., Mining Engineer, to contain $186,000.00 of gold, silver, lead and zinc ore above drift level. During 1951, fifteen tons of crude ore, shipped to the Trail Smelter, and taken from three locations on the May P. J. vein, gave the following returns:

| | Dry Tons | Gold | Silver | Lead | Zinc | Value Per Ton |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Assay Per Dry Ton | | | | |
| East Shoot | 11.25 | .43 oz. | 84.9 oz. | 12.6% | 18.5% | $219.50 |
| West Shoot | 3.5 | .03 oz. | 10.2 oz. | 15.7% | 15.5% | $136.21 |
| Armstrong Tunnel | .80 | .02 oz. | 4.3 oz. | 8.9% | 6.5% | $ 70.72 |

Other known veins sampled on the property assay at current market prices for metals as follows:

Silver Creek Vein ... $262.49 per ton
Blind Vein ... $227.88 per ton
McGillivray Vein ... $149.65 per ton

A. Kirby, Jr., Mining Engineer of the Silbak-Premier Mines Limited, after examination of the property in October, 1951, recommends that the Company install machinery and equipment to mine the above-mentioned ore shoot, truck the ore to the mill of the Silbak-Premier Mines Limited for treatment, and to further develop the known ore deposits of the May P. J. vein.

F. J. Hemsworth, Mining Engineer, consulting engineer for the Company, has recommended an extensive topographical and geological survey of the area adjacent to the May P. J. vein for the purpose of conducting a diamond drilling program at depth.

An illustrated brochure, containing the history, development and geological and engineering opinion is available on request.

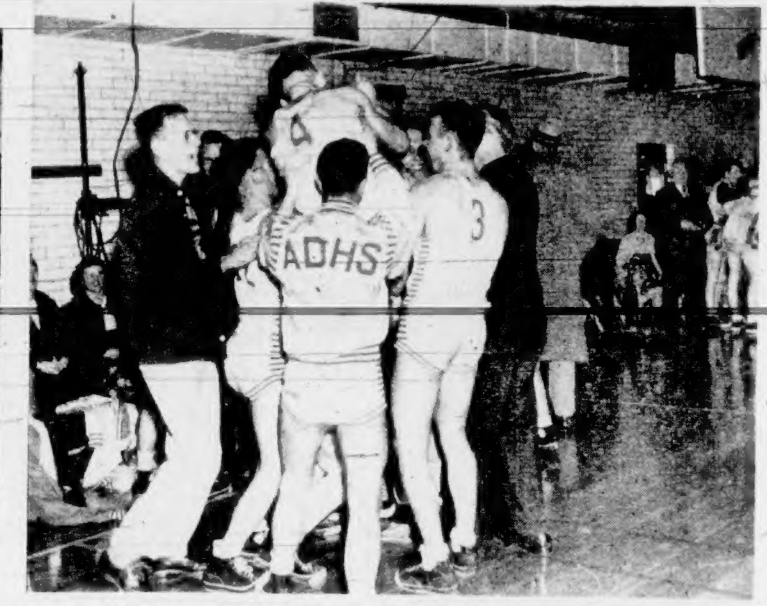
Alberni High School Retains Colonist Cup

Congratulations for winning effort are being given by Seth Halton, right, publisher of The Daily Colonist, as he presents Colonist Cup, emblematic of Vancouver Island inter-high school basketball championship, to Don Gray, captain of Alberni High School squad. Teammate Jack Perry is shown behind Gray.



Members of Alberni High School team flock around Dave Williamson (No. 4), cheering him, following last night's final in Vancouver Island inter-high school basketball tournament. It was Williamson's two free shots in final minutes which gave Alberni 45-44 victory over Victoria High School and championship.

Thrilling Spectacle As Two Free Shots Beat Totems, 45-44

By IAN GLENDAY

It has been said repeatedly that the wealth of the country lies with its youth—youth with [illegible] the competitive spirit to match the fierce desire for fame.

A packed house of hysterical students and parents, caught up in the excitement of one of the biggest basketball spectacles in the history of Victoria High School looked on with obvious glee as Alberni High School nipped Victoria High Totems, 45-44.

SECOND IN ROW

The visitors fully lived up to their reputation as the team to beat and walked off with the the Colonist Cup, emblematic of Vancouver Island high school basketball supremacy, for the second straight year.

It was a fitting climax to two solid days of basketball thrills, two memorable days that will live in the minds of the spectators and players alike for some time.

Seldom have two teams given so much in entertainment and thrills as Alberni and Totems did last night. There was nothing to choose between the two quintets as they fought tooth-and-nail for the shiny trophy—asking no quarter and, in turn, giving none.

It took two free shots by Dave Williamson in the final three seconds to stop the Totems, who came within an ace of completing a great comeback.

JUMP INTO LEAD

Displaying blinding speed and a dazzling passing display, the Up-Islanders jumped into a 15-9 first quarter lead and held a 24-19 margin at the half.

It was much the same story in the third frame, as the canal boys continued to set a torrid pace and things looked black for the avid Vic. High supporters.

Totems started to roll in the final stanza and pulled on even terms with the winners on a long shot from the corner and a free shot by Lorne Oakley.

Dave Williamson restored the lead with a gift shot and the Up-Islanders started to stall. For two minutes, they held the ball from the desperate Totems, but Len Anderson intercepted a pass and [illegible] who scored with a lay-up with five seconds remaining.

Williamson brought the crowd to its feet when he dribbled the length of the floor and was fouled in the act of shooting. He calmly dunked in both free shots and that was the game, a heart-breaker for the Totems to lose.

Mount View grabbed third place with a 65-50 victory over Cumberland, putting the Up-Islanders in fifth position. Oak Bay wound up in the fourth rung with a thrilling 44-42 triumph over Esquimalt, the Dockers taking sixth. In a battle of the losers, Nanaimo edged Cowichan 56-50 to grab seventh spot.

Buzz Jacklin of Nanaimo won the Times Trophy as the most valuable player in the jamboree and copped a berth on the first all-star team. His three-game total of 85 points established a new record.

Others named to the first all-star team were Ron Gray and Claude Schick of Alberni, forward and guard respectively; Esquimalt's Gordie Jones, guard and Allan Snowsell of Mount View, forward.

Nanaimo—Buzz Jacklin 30, George Kosick 12, Jack Little 8, Wes Thom 4, Dick Frost, Dick Little, Ed Frolo, Ted Bradshaw 1, Sid Norman 1, Don Aitken 2—56.

Cowichan High—Al Dunlop, Joe Dixon 1, Jim Swanson 15, Tom Tote, Bill Aitchison 10, Harold Cronk 10, Andy Yarl, Bill Saunders 12, Pete Keeton—50.

Oak Bay High—Laurie Veitch 20, Frank Lewis 1, Ken Barnes 6, Bruce Robson, Jim Mitchell, Bryan [illegible] 1, Monty Little 2, Jim Sharp, Brian Priestley 2, Gary Corbett 2—44.

Esquimalt High—Gordie Jones 7, Ron Hunter 11, Ralph Bennett 13, Harold Shergold 7, Bill Dobbie 1, Mark Cunningham 1, Tony Ward, Chuck Bennett, Ron Smith, Garth Carter, Don Sutton, Gerry Harris—42.

Mount View—Allan Snowsell 16, Ken Murray 22, Dick Grainger 4, Dave Price 12, John Pritchard 5, Knud Knudsen, Robin Knudsen 5, Don Pringle, Allan Fall 2, Pete Winter 1—65.

Cumberland—John Milburn 8, Stanley Mounce 1, Emlyn Wynne 5, George Cochrane, Bill Bowes 6, Harold Bates, Terry Tobacco 25, Wayne Bancroft 2—50.

Alberni High—Ron McLean, Dave Williamson 22, Jack Moodell 5, Jim Pennington, Ron Gray, Claude Schick 9, Bob Nichol 11, Pat Sweeney, Jack Perry—45.

Victoria High Totems—Jim Jahraus 11, John Shields 2, Len Anderson 10, Lorne Oakley 14, Eddie Pederson 1, George Dennison 1, Bob Zarry, Lowell Hodges, Bob Abbott, Ted Whan 3, Marty Boylan—44.

United Squad Turns In Full Value For 2-1 Triumph Over North Shore

Next games, Firefighters vs. VICTORIA UNITED at VICTORIA; St. Andrews vs. Vancouver City, Brockton Point.

Victoria United continued to make B.C. soccer fans and officials sit up and take notice yesterday.

Playing their second Coast Soccer League match of the second half at Vancouver, the Islanders upset North Shore, first-half champions, 2-1, before 1,600 fans at Callister Park, and were full value for the two points.

Victory increased United's lead to three points with the second-place New Westminster Royals drawing, 3-3, with Firefighters at Queen's Park in New Westminster. Both Royals and the Firemen are undefeated, but the Royals have tied two games, giving United a slight edge.

Most important game of the season to date is billed here next Saturday with the Royals playing at Royal Athletic Park in a match that might well decide second-half honors.

TOP PERFORMANCES

United was an improved side yesterday, with every player turning in a top performance. Biggest improvement was seen up front, where the forwards combined better and showed a promising tendency to fire away at goal instead of trying too many passes when in close. The defense remained solid, with centre-half Sid Robbins completely blanketing the dangerous Fred Whittaker.

The win was especially pleasing to club president George Eade, who was celebrating a birthday yesterday and received the gift he most desired from his players.

Play opened cautiously but United soon took the initiative it was to hold for the balance of the first half and for most of the second. The Victorians quickly forced several corner kicks as Frank Ashdown tipped shots by John Pickburn and Den McGee over the bar. Bernie Clarkson open the scoring when he chested in Cedric Robb's well-placed flag kick at 26 minutes.

CHANCES MISSED

United missed several more chances while Shores had only two good opportunities in the first half. Sid Robbins caught Whittaker on a break and Bobby Moulds, probably best for the losers along with playing-coach Jim Spencer, shot over when through.

Jack Strachan replaced Robb at right wing for United after the intermission and United almost increased its lead, Milligan's shot caroming off a defender.

At 12 minutes, Shores got a break when goalie Bill McAllister's clearing kick rebounded into the Victoria nets off Sid Robbins.

Eight minutes later, Robb came on at centre-forward with playing-coach Wallace Milligan taking over for Stan Bob at inside right. The Victoria attack pepped up but it wasn't until the last two minutes that the winning goal was scored. Milligan got it when he booted in a rebound off Robb's shot on a play started from the right side.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

Nanaimo's Harold Hine, vice-president of the Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Association, has written to The Colonist defending the actions of Nanaimo players who attacked referee Jim Lockie here Wednesday night following the final game of the Island junior final.

"I feel, that in all justice, the citizens of Victoria should be informed that in the game was witnessed one of the cruelest exhibitions of prejudiced and moronic foolishness that has been staged in some considerable time," Mr. Hine writes.

"The Nanaimo junior team was openly at the mercy of a prejudiced referee, who was subject to jeers and condemnations from the citizens of Victoria, who were there in the majority, as well as citizens of Nanaimo, who were there in the minority . . .

"How it is possible to produce sportsmen after being subject to referees who thwart every effort they make to play a clean, sportsmanlike hockey is impossible to imagine. The writer feels that in justice to the Nanaimo junior players, something should be done to prevent referees monitoring a game who are so prejudiced in favor of one team or another and who have such a complete lack of understanding of the fundamentals of hockey.

"Inasmuch as the writer is a citizen of Nanaimo, this may sound like "sour grapes" but please overlook human failing and accept this as a protest against the destruction of the development of sportsmanlike hockey players at the hands of unqualified referees."

Mr. Hine is right. It does sound like "sour grapes." I did not see Wednesday's game or the earlier juvenile game in which a Nanaimo player attacked both Lockie and a Victoria player and am unable to express a personal opinion on the quality of the refereeing. However, poor refereeing is no excuse for the actions of young hockey players who physically attack an official and were only fortunate that their attack did not result in serious injury. This is evidence of bad discipline and coaching which must certainly be more remiss than any referee could possibly be. Mr. Hines appears to be remiss in his duties, too. It is my thought that as a responsible official of the P.C.A.H.A. he is hardly fostering the cause of producing sportsmanlike hockey players by defending actions for which there can be no possible justification.

Sport

Tom Druce Gets 'Hat' For Royals

Tommy Druce, one-time member of Victoria United, continued to keep New Westminster Royals in the race for second-half honors in the Coast Soccer League yesterday.

The husky centre-forward, who has been averaging about two goals a game since switching his allegiance, scored all of his club's goals as the Royal City side fought to a 3-3 draw with Firefighters at Queen's Park.

Frank Ambler put Firefighters ahead early in the game but Druce squared it before the half. He tied it again 15 minutes after Dave Brown had again put Firemen ahead and then did it a third time by scoring a minute after Ambler got his second goal, about 15 minutes from time.

Royals held the edge for the rest of the game but failed to take advantage of several fine chances.

Hockey Body Appoints Hall

W. S. Hall, formerly of Winnipeg, has been appointed secretary of the Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Association.

The appointment was made last week by Ivan Temple, president of the P.C.A.H.A. Hall succeeds Harry Porter of Nanaimo.

Temple said he had selected Hall because of his hockey experience. He was a member of the executive of the Big Four League in Winnipeg some years ago, president of the C.P.R. League in Winnipeg and also on the executive of the Moose Jaw junior and senior clubs. He played goal in his younger days.

Hall, now retired from the Canadian Pacific Railway, is living in Victoria.

Smokies Lead In Puck Final

Second Period—4. Trail, Cook (Wiest, Fischer) 4.10; 5. Kelowna, Hanson (Hoskins, Kaiser) 8.00; 6. Trail, Turik (Stanton) 19.20. No penalties.

Third Period—7. Trail, Cavanagh (Wiest) 13.11. Penalties—Fischer, Hoskins.

Foresters Set Playoffs In Fivepin Loop

The Independent Order of Foresters' Fivepin Bowling League will hold its playoffs at the Capital City Bowladrome March 22 and 29. Teams which have qualified for the playdowns are Bumsteads, Flyers, Beavers, Penguins, Headpins and Toilers.

Ken Jones won the league's individual averages title with a 220 mark. Brother Stan was runner-up with 211 and Brian Kilpatrick was next with 208. Sylvia Martin paced the women with a 192 average. Francis Harvey had 182 and Kay Lister 181.

Ken Jones bowled the season's high three mark of 868 and Don Branter's 361 was the high single for the year. Francis Harvey rolled both women's records. She had a 765 three-game total and 302 single effort.

Wests Cop Garrison Cup, Best Legion, 5-3, in Final

Victoria West is the 1951-52 champion of the Victoria and District Football Association.

The Greenshirts, winners of the second half of the schedule, captured the Garrison Cup, symbolic of the league title, by defeating Legion, first-half winners, 5-3, in a hard-fought but lustreless match at Royal Athletic Park yesterday afternoon.

The win brings the cup back to the West's mantlepiece after a year's absence. They captured it in 1949-50 but didn't reach the final last season, when Duncan Native Sons took the trophy Up-Island.

Most of the action was concentrated in the beginning and end of the game yesterday. The teams scored three goals in the first 10 minutes and ended up with four in the final 15 minutes.

VETS START FAST

Legion started with a rush and kept the Wests bottled up for about five minutes. Jim Davidson put the Blues into a momentary lead on a sound play with Bill Thomas and Ken Griffin.

Wests came on the move and play switched to the other end of the field. George Brown evened the count at the seven-minute mark and Chick Newman put Wests into the lead minutes later. Legion, showing the effects of their long layoff, wilted under the relentless attack and Newman made it 3-1 during a goal-mouth scramble just before the intermission.

DEFEND LEAD

Wests concentrated on defense after the break and had almost brought the game to a standstill with their spoiling tactics when Thomas hit the post on a nice play at the 32-minute mark and Andy Anderson rushed in to boot the rebound home and put Legion within one goal.

Play opened up after that. Ron Bland and Newman combined to put Wests two up again. Bland booted a free kick from midfield and Newman beat Legion goalie John Moss and another defender to the ball to nudge it into the goal.

Roy Speiler then scored on a good effort to put Wests three goals up and Thomas scored from the penalty spot just before the end.

Alderman Frank Mulliner presented the Garrison Cup to Ron Bland, West's captain, in a brief ceremony after the game.

Line-ups:

Victoria West—Norm Richards, Doug Hudlin, Ron Woolcock, Bill Turner, Ron Bland, Murray Speiler, Jim Turner, Len Scott, George Brown, Chick Newman, Roy Speiler. Spares—Dick Watson, Pete Fowles, Doug Gent.

Legion—John Moss, Len Potter, Dave Main, Tom Fallon, Harry Carruthers, Arnold Vezza, Jim Davidson, John Vezza, Ken Griffin, Andy Anderson, Bill Thomas. Spare—Alex McCormick.

Victoria Cougars remained in the three-way battle for the final playoff berth in the Pacific Coast Hockey League by rebounding from their horrendous 7-1 shellacking at the hands of Tacoma on Friday to defeat the league-leading New Westminster Royals on their home ice at Queen's Park Arena last night.

Walt Atanas banged in Doug Anderson's rebound at the 34-second mark of the second period to give the Cougars a 2-1 triumph. It was Atanas' 20th goal, coming while Royals were a man short through a late first-period penalty to Aime Dufault.

Saskatoon Quakers gave the Cougars a helping hand when they administered an 8-0 whitewashing to the sixth-place Calgary Stampeders at Saskatoon. The victory enabled the Quakers to clinch second place and kept alive their hopes of catching the Royals.

CANUCKS GET CHANCE

Vancouver Canucks, sandwiched between Stampeders and Cougars with one point separating each, get a chance to move into the coveted spot when they meet Seattle Ironmen at Seattle tonight.

Eddie Doroboy broke away from a Royal ganging attack, faked a pass and beat goalie Lucien Dechene to put the Cougars ahead with the game less than three minutes old.

Royals tied it up four minutes later with Butch Houle scoring from close in on a play engineered by Gordie Fashoway and Guyle Fielder.

Royals grabbed the initiative following Atanas' goal but the Cougar defense stood up with goalie Jerry Cotnoir especially brilliant as they stormed his net repeatedly in the third period.

SIX-MAN FIGHT

The gme was highlighted by a six-man fight late in the second period. Royals' Jerry Cabana and Jack McIntyre of Cougars each received two-minute roughing penalties while Doroboy and Houle drew majors for fighting. Royals' playing coach Jake Forbes and Fiori Goegan of Cougars escaped referee Eddie Powers' eye despite a lusty highsticking duel.

At Saskatoon, goalie Lorne Worsley gained his fifth shutout to draw even with Dechene and tie a P.C.H.L. record. Quakers' big line of Alex Kaleta, Johnny Chad and Neil Strain picked up 13 scoring points with Kaleta and Chad each scoring two goals and three assists.

The eight goals boosted the total against the Stamps for the season to 311, breaking the P.C.H.L. mark of 307 set by the 1949-50 Cougars.

Tacoma Rockets moved within one point of clinching third place by defeating Seattle Ironmen, 3-1, at Tacoma.

Eilers Eliminate Alberni Athletics

PORT ALBERNI, B.C., March 15 (CP).—Vancouver Eilers came with a rush in the final quarter tonight to shave Port Alberni Athletics 63-62, and enter the British Columbia senior basketball final against Prince Rupert or Penticton.

Penticton Omegas defeated Prince Rupert Challengers 67-63 tonight at Penticton to square their best-of-three semi-final at a game apiece. Third game will be played at Penticton Monday.

Eilers, in squeaking by the Athletics by one point for the second night in a row, won the best-of-five series 3-1. They won 62-61 last night.

The Athletics held a 36-34 lead at the half and were ahead 51-54 after the third quarter.

But Vancouver, led by Nev Munroe with 10 points, outscored Port Alberni 18-11 in the last heat.

Munroe led the point-getters of both teams with 21 points. Harry Kermode of Port Alberni was second high man with 15.

Vancouver—Forsythe 8, Lawn 7, Munroe 21, Mitchell 8, Watt 10, Lisle, Wetherspoon 2, Moses 5, Bardsley. Total 63.

Port Alberni—Kermode 15, Durante 4, Buchanan 8, Forrest 3, Lunn 1, Hill 4, Waugh 12, Samarin 9, Mitchell, Grebolski 1. Total 62.

Opposition Increasing Against Log Storage

Request of a Victoria lumber company for the right to use Sidney Lagoon for log storage is going to get quite a battle from Lower Island sportsmen.

Determined to prevent what would be ruination of one of the very few remaining good hunting grounds on Vancouver Island and what is an excellent feeding and resting place for migratory wild fowl, they are banding together to attempt to prevent approval of the request.

Thursday night, the executive of the 1,500-member Victoria [illegible] opposing the request for foreshore rights. Letters of protest have been sent to Nancy Hodges, W. T. Straith and D. J. Proudfoot, Victoria M.L.A.'s, Arthur Ash, M.L.A. for Saanich, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, and the B.C. Game Department along with a request to permanently set aside the area in question as a public shooting grounds. President Ray Ritchie also reported that petitions opposing the use of Sidney Lagoon for log storage will be placed in all Victoria sporting goods stores and at ship chandlers and Lower Island hunters are asked to get behind the opposition move.

Report of Biologist Helps

Meanwhile, G. F. "Pat" Dunn, who started the fight to preserve the area for sportsmen, found some good ammunition in a report submitted by Biologist Charlie Guiget of the Provincial Museum. It backs up the claim that Sidney Island is valuable as a feeding and resting place for wild fowl. Part of Guiget's report follows.

"Sidney Island, and Sooke Harbour to a certain extent, are unique in having eel grass beds and fine sands which become sufficiently exposed for utilization by waterfowl, principally black brant. No other areas at the south end of Vancouver Island are so favoured, consequently these represent the only major feeding and sanding units for the species here.

"Sidney Island and the lagoon thereon is the major point of concentration on the southeast side of the Island. It is utilized annually by literally thousands of black brant in their northward migration.

"The storage of logs in the lagoon or about the sandy beaches of this Island would undoubtedly greatly reduce or completely eliminate the availability of the eel grass beds and sands to these large flocks simply by mechanical obstruction. More serious, if such masses of logs should go 'dry' at low tide there is the strong possibility that the eel grass beds would be eliminated by bark settling, gouging, or other mechanical injury. Consequently, the presence of such logs at anytime of the year will have serious detrimental effects upon waterfowl populations utilizing this area, even though said logs may be removed at such time as the waterfowl populations are present.

"CONCLUSION: The storage of logs at the Sidney Island Lagoon and spit at any season of the year will have a serious detrimental effect upon the large numbers of waterfowl utilizing the area."

Fresh Steelhead Run

Highlight of the week's fishing news is a report from Roger Monteith that there is a fresh run of steelhead in the Cowichan River. Sid Levy and partner had a profitable trip Friday, beaching three between seven and 12 pounds. They were taken on red bead lures. Last week end, Gerry Weiss caught probably the largest specimen of the season. It tipped the scales at 19¼ pounds after being cleaned. He caught his prize on a Tee Devon, the same lure which gave George Wells a limit catch—five, eight and 15 pounds. Best fishing is in the Sahtlam area.

Shawnigan Lake probably is the best bet for trout fishermen, both for fly fishing and trolling, but Dougan's Lake continues to give up fish. Johnny Wenger limited there Wednesday using a No. 1 Stewart spoon. There are plenty of trout showing in Kemp Lake but an abundance of feed continues to test the ingenuity of anglers. Headwaters of the Cowichan River appear to have a good trout population but fish are still bottom feeding and it is necessary to get lures down for success.

Fishing for the large-sized Saanich Inlet grilse remains spotty with no way of telling just when there will be good fishing. Harry Peard reports from the Anchorage Boathouse that Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were good days but that fishing fell off yesterday. Capt. A. C. Cruchley had the best recorded luck of the week with a 16-pound spring Wednesday and a 10-pounder on Thursday taken in the mouth of Tod Inlet. Ernest Heybroek and son Bill and Howie Slang limited in grilse. Bucktail flies remain the best lure with the fishing area from Whittaker's Point to MacKenzie Bay.

From Hall's Boathouse at the Goldstream end comes a similar report. There are plenty of fish showing but no one seems able to figure out the best day or best time of day for success. Pat McLean boated a 17½-pound spring. Charlie Panting and C. R. James and C. M. Woolard limited in grilse. Good catches were taken by Sid Jenkins, Frank Thew, R. Wallis and C. Menzies, Tiny Richards, J. Smalley and J. Wallace, and Fred Curle and partner.

Cec Garriott Keeps Busy, Signs Four More Rookies

There were further indications yesterday that Victoria Tyees won't lack numbers when they open their spring training camp at Salinas next Saturday.

Business manager Reg Patterson, who leaves for camp on Tuesday, stated last night that he is taking 40 uniforms with him and that it appeared as if they all will be needed. The remark was made after a telephone conversation with manager Cec Garriott, who is keeping busy lining up the best Los Angeles talent he can find.

Garriott informed Patterson that he had signed four young Los Angeles players yesterday and that they would report to Salinas along with almost 40 other players.

YOUTH MOVEMENT

The newest rookies include a Negro catcher, two pitchers and a second baseman. Two are 21 years of age, one is 20 and the other 19 as Garriott continues the youth movement he hopes will give Victoria an interesting as well as a contending team.

The latest rookies are Walter Townes, 19-year-old colored catcher who also has had infield experience; Bill Barron, a 20-year-old second baseman who had a good high school and college record; southpaw John Vallerie and righthander Bill Wisnenski, both 21.

Luther Branham, colored infielder; catcher Joe Yanchuk; rookie infielder Bob Demarque, colored outfielder Rufus Johnson and holdover pitchers Jim Propst, Jim Hedgcock and Ben Lorino are among other players who will be on hand. Garriott has several more youngsters in mind as well as two or three veterans.

BEAVERS TO HELP

Portland Beavers have promised eight or 10 players and there is a strong possibility that they will include Joe Lafata, former first baseman with New York Giants, and outfielder Jim Gladstone who may also be used at shortstop.

There is still a possibility that outfielder Bill White and Gene Thompson will be among the hopefuls although both have balked at salary terms. Outfielder Ernie Sites will be there.

CATCHING PROBLEM

The biggest need at the moment, Patterson stated, is an experienced catcher. He hopes to be able to purchase Art Thrasher from Sacramento and Garriott is still negotiating with Macy O'Brien, a colored backstop now is doubtful about leaving a good job in Los Angeles. Ziggie Marcel, basketball star with the Harlem All-Stars, is going down to try out for the catching berth.

Patterson disclosed that a deal is in the early stages for the sale of first baseman Hal Jackson to Del Rio.

The camp will open Saturday morning with batterymen and rookies reporting for the first workout at 9:00 a.m. Balance of the club is to report the following Friday.

District Loop To Select All-Star Teams

The Victoria and District Football Association will hold a meeting at the British Public Schools Club Wednesday at 8 p.m. to make arrangements for supporting the coming Juvenile Day program.

At the meeting the executive will select an all-star team to meet Victoria United in the feature attraction and will also chose a team to meet the challenge of Greater Victoria Firemen.

Juvenile Day, co-sponsored by The Daily Colonist and the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association, will be held at Royal Athletic Park on Good Friday, April 11.

Tops Cadet Shoot

Cpl. C. G. Gerard of the 89th Squadron (Kinsmen) Royal Canadian Air Cadets, led the shooting in the weekly Victoria and District Cadet Rifle Association last week with a 98. Teammate Cpl. S. H. Hook was runner-up with 97.

Individual scores follow:

75th H.A.A. Cadets: Cadet D. Wilson 95, Cadet C. Rogers 94, Sgt. D. Gray 93, Cadet R. Bugg 90, Cadet R. Bourke 88, Cadet A. Kirby 86.

Fail in Bid for B.C. Crown

Victoria Minor Hockey Association midget division all-stars failed in their bid for Coast championship Friday when they lost to visiting Vancouver team, 11-2. Vancouver took two-game total-point series, 18-5. Vancouver club proved too strong for Victorians who won Vancouver Island championship recently with 13-0 triumph in two-game total-goal series against Nanaimo. Members of Victoria all-stars are, left to right, front row—goalie John Gittens, Walt Harris, Ron Youell, Allan Taylor, Art Binks and David Stones; back row—Bob Showers, Brian Turnbull, Bud Brice, Noel Boston, Steve Foster, Bill Dawson, Peter Dawe and Brian Erb. Team is coached by Bill Davidson.

Provincial, Coast Crowns Won by Victoria Quintets

Victoria teams captured a Pacific Coast and a British Columbia basketball championship at Vancouver last night.

Arrow Furniture captured the provincial intermediate "A" girls title by whipping Chalmers United, 35-30, in the second game of the two-game total-point series. They took the series 65-58 after beating Chalmers 30-28 in the opener Friday.

Paced by Chris Boyd with 16 points, the Victorians took a 17-13 lead at the half. Miss Boyes picked up 10 points in the opener to take the scoring honors for the series.

TIREMEN WIN

Victoria's Dickinson and Dunn won the Coast intermediate "A" men's title by defeating University of British Columbia Braves, 56-55, to take the two-game total-point series 102-96. Victoria won the first game, 46-41, Friday.

The five-point lead was soon lost as the Braves took an 18-5 lead at the quarter. Dickinson and Dunn rallied in the second quarter and pulled into a 27-24 lead. They increased it one point in the third quarter to lead 40-36 and then withstood a 19-point attack by the Braves in the final stanza.

Victoria's George Woollett led the point-makers with 15. Dal Christie topped the Braves with 12. Christie scored 15 points in Friday's game to become high scorer of the series with 27 points.

Tiremen will meet Penticton at the interior city Friday and Saturday in a two-game total-point series for the provincial championship.

Summary:

Arrow Furniture—Joan Gladstone 4, Vera Hutton 5, Joyce Johnson 2, Chris Boyd 16, Pat Wright 8, Bev Hearn, Terry Oppenheimer, Kay McDonald. Total 35.

Chalmers United—Shirley Topley 16, Nancy Gordon 3, Maureen Holburn 2, Gerry Germore 8, Eleanor Spencer 1, Bess Howden, Coe Brummitt, Pat Paterson, Fay Phillips. Total 30.

New Glass Club Boon to Duffers

BRISTOL, Conn., March 15 (AP).—A new club which shoots straighter was promised today to golfers.

Its shaft is made of fibre-glass.

The Horton Bristol Manufacturing company said:

"These glass shafts can be made uniformly as to stiffness or flexibility and experiments so far have proven that straighter shots can be hit with these clubs and there is less possibility of slicing or hooking."

Boston Bruins shut out the Montreal Canadiens 2-0 last night to retain fourth place in the fast-ending National Hockey League schedule.

The win gave the Bruins a three-point margin over the fifth place New York Rangers in the battle between the two clubs for fourth and last playoff position. The Rangers lost to Toronto 5-2.

In the other game Detroit Red Wings cruised to a routine 6-1 triumph over Chicago Black Hawks.

SIXTH FOR HENRY

It was the sixth shutout of the season for goalie Jim Henry who turned in a sensational performance for the Bruins. Henry turned aside 39 shots, 18 in the first, seven in the second and 14 in the third, while Gerry McNeil had only 17 to handle.

The game, before a crowd of 14,187 Montreal fans, was dull in many spots. Canadiens appeared unable to get a consistent attack organized while the Bruins played it cagily, checked closely and seldom raced in close.

Sid Smith and Tod Sloan paced the Maple Leafs to victory before 13,314 home town fans. Smith picked up three goals and assisted on another while Sloan scored once and passed for three.

Golf—Here's How

By SAM SNEAD

Golf's Greatest Player Teacher

same time a sort of upthrust of the left hip also takes place, providing leverage or foundation for the swing. The left shoulder upthrust permits the right shoulder to pass down and under so that the hip and shoulder pivot the downswing of the arms and the wrist throw, all blend into a single force at impact. If you maintain the two anchors of your swing—(1) the head held immovable throughout and (2) the proper foot action—you naturally tend to use this hip and shoulder up-thrust without conscious effort. Fight the tendency to straighten your head up vertically at impact. Instead, look at the ball in flight with the head still in the address position, turn the head—don't lift it until the follow through is fully completed.

Varsity Retains Cup With 17-0 Win As Breaks Go Against Crimson Tide

By BRIAN WHARF

VANCOUVER, March 15.—Victoria Crimson Tide made a gallant stand against Varsity at U.B.C. stadium this afternoon but failed in its attempt to take the McKechnie Cup back to Victoria.

Varsity Thunderbirds trounced the [illegible] Tide, 17-0, in the sudden-death final for the English rugby championship of the province.

Although the Tide never stopped trying, it lacked the finesse that carried it to an 8-8 tie in the previous encounter between the two teams. Despite the 17-point margin, the Tide was not disgraced in defeat. Three strokes of hard luck combined to keep losers off the score sheet and weakened the defense considerably.

The first piece of bad break came early in the first half with Varsity leading 8-0. Victoria was awarded a free kick deep in the Varsity end. [illegible] appeared good but the ball struck the right post and rebounded into play.

FINISH WITH 14

More serious was the loss of Gary P[illegible] [illegible] The Tide [illegible] began to tell.

The [illegible] occurred midway through the second half. Dave McKenzie, the standout player for both clubs despite being continually roughed up, received a thorough working over [illegible]

THREE LINE GOOD

[illegible] exceptionally strong although overshadowed by the [illegible]. The Perry brothers gave their usual steady performance and fullback Derek Hyde-Ley was one of the individual stars. Jim Mill was best of the forwards.

Four former Victorians played well for Varsity and contributed [illegible] Frank Gower, playing his first game at fullback, turned in a stellar performance and Jerry Newton, Bill Mulholland and Charlie Brumwell were good.

SURPRISE TRYS

With the Tide concentrating on stopping the Varsity wing threes, the Varsity forwards scored two early surprise tries [illegible] Bill White [illegible] Ray Cock[illegible] Mulholland converting to put the Birds ahead 8-0. The first half ended with Victoria pressing [illegible] Varsity line.

Varsity completed the scoring on a pair of tries by Doug McMillan and Newton, sandwiching a penalty goal by Mulholland. [illegible] struck the crossbar but the ball bounced over.

La Salle Squad Upsets Dayton

NEW YORK, March 15 (INS).—La Salle, the team that came from nowhere, won the first National Invitation tournament [illegible] by smashing Dayton 75 to 64 at Madison Square Garden.

Pandemonium broke out among the more than 18,000 spectators as La Salle rooters tore out onto the floor to boost members of the Cinderella team to their shoulders.

The Explorers, who automatically gained entrance to the Olympic tryouts, took the lead midway in the first quarter and kept it for the rest of the game. It was a triumph of resourcefulness and aggressiveness over Dayton's superior height.

Shutout Wins Feature Soccer Finals

Mic Macs and two Eagles teams captured trophies during the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association knockout cup series yesterday afternoon.

Eagles' Division III team captured the Little & Taylor Cup by scoring an upset 6-0 win over James Bay Merchants at Lower Beacon Hill. Merchants won the first half of the Division III schedule and currently holds a substantial lead in the second half.

Mic Macs defeated Combine Pee Wees 1-0 at Upper Beacon Hill to win the Division IV New Method Cup. Eagles, Division V, captured the John Baxter Memorial trophy by humiliating St. Louis College, 15-0.

Mat Card Set

Texan Gene Blakeley moves up to the main event to match holds with [illegible] Brown on tomorrow's wrestling card at the Victoria Ballroom.

Ageless Chief Thunderbird opposes Swede Olson in the semi-main event and Bat Russel meets ex-Washington football star Dick Hayes in the special bout. The opener is still to be arranged.

Purchase of Lawton for $42,000 Pays Brentford Early Dividend

LONDON, March 15 (Reuters).—Tommy Lawton, star international centre forward bought by Brentford from Notts County for about $42,000 last night, today led his new club to a decisive 3-1 victory over Swansea.

Swansea took the lead early in the game but Lawton, playing as captain, rallied his team and his counter attack gave Brentford its first victory in Britain's soccer [illegible]

The leadership in all divisions remained unchanged after today's matches.

Manchester United's 2-0 victory against Wolverhampton Wanderers in the First Division put the team two points ahead of its nearest rival Arsenal at the top of the table.

ARSENAL HELD

Arsenal, going all out for the coveted double—leadership in the league and the Football Association Cup—was held to a 0-0 draw by Fulham.

In league Division II Nottingham Forest held on to its two-point lead by beating Coventry 3-1. Three teams sharing second place—Sheffield Wednesday, Leicester and Birmingham—all won their games.

Plymouth Argyle's 5-0 victory over Newport gives the team 53 points at the top of the table in league Division III (southern). But Reading, alone in second place last week, was beaten 2-1 by Norwich and now shares second spot with Brighton which drew 1-1 with Shrewsbury.

LEADERS LOSE

[illegible] County, first and second respectively in the Northern Section last week, both lost today. Lincoln remains in the leadership with 51 points but Grimsby overtook Stockport in second place by beating Gateshead and jumping to 48 points.

In Scottish League Division 'A' Hibernian went down to a 3-2 defeat by Queen of the South but retains a three-point lead over its nearest rival, Rangers, which beat Morton 1-0.

In Division 'B' Clyde drew 3-3 with Dumbarton, narrowing its first-place lead to three points over Falkirk, which scored a crashing 6-0 victory against Forfar.

Another Record For Idaho Lake

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, March 15 (AP).—A fisherman caught a 34-pound Dolly Varden trout char in Lake Pend Oreille Thursday and claimed a world's record for the species.

The fish was landed by Elmer Dreisbach of Bayview. This tops a 32-pound Dolly landed in 1949 by Nelson Higgins of Pullman, Wash. The Higgins catch was regarded as a record for Dolly Varden.

Trade Winds Waft Warm On Grapefruit Circuit

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 15 (CP).—Trade winds blowing through the training camp palms whisper names like Al Zarilla, Eddie Waitkus, Cass Michaels, Irv Noren, Johnny Groth and Russ Meyer.

Frank Lane, Chicago White Sox general manager, delayed his departure for California in an attempt to close a deal with Detroit.

Turned down on an offer of Zarilla and Bob Dillinger for Johnny Groth and Pat Mullin, Lane tossed new names in the hopper. Although Lane says "no," firstbaseman Eddie Robinson appears to be the most likely target of Tiger attention.

NEED PITCHERS

Everybody you talk to in Florida says Brooklyn must have a trade to close its pitching ranks. The search for a "new" Don Newcombe is a wide open scramble, changing daily. The Dodgers are "set" at eight positions but Preacher Roe is the only consistent pitcher on the staff.

Bob Carpenter, Phils' owner, traveled to Miami with his club in mid-week, on the chance that the Brooks would want to talk business about pitchers.

With Curt Simmons slated to come out of the army in early season, the Phils could afford to let go of Russ Meyer or even Howie Fox for the right kind of a deal. First baseman Eddie Waitkus, getting a chilly reception from the management, would be tossed into a multi-player swap with Brooklyn if the Dodgers would let go a first line outfielder.

Also in Miami for talks with the Dodgers is Gabe Paul, Cincinnati general manager. Reported concerned in the conversation were Herm Wehmeier or Ewell Blackwell of the Reds and Brooklyn's Rocky Bridges or Bob Morgan.

DICKSON DEAL SLIM

Pittsburgh scout Bill Burwell is watching the Dodgers, who are interested in making a deal for veteran Pirate righthander Murray Dickson. However, there is little chance for a deal on Dickson.

From out west comes word that Leo Durocher is casting eyes at Pittsburgh's George Metkovich as possible outfield insurance when Willie Mays goes into the army. Pitcher Sheldon Jones, infielder Ron Hofman and catcher Ray Noble might go.

When the Philadelphia A's visited Orlando last week end one of the first questions asked by manager Jimmy Dykes was: "How's old Pork Chops?" In Jimmy's vocabulary "Old Pork Chops" is Cass Michaels, Washington's second baseman.

However, the A's have little to spare that Washington could use, unless Bucky Harris wanted to gamble on a question mark pitcher like Joe Coleman or Dick Fowler. Most of all, Harris needs some righthanded hitting power.

YANK-SENATOR DEAL?

The New York Yankees had scouts Paul Krichell and Johnny Neun watching the Washington club in the early games. Centre fielder Irv Noren or third baseman Eddie Yost is their target. Harris might be interested in outfielder Jackie Jensen, an infielder and catcher like Ralph Houk.

A Noren for Jensen deal was near completion when premature publicity broke off negotiations. George Weiss, Yank general manager, became disturbed when names leaked from the Washington end.

Red Ruffing, Cleveland's trade-minded scout, went away empty-handed after a stay in Florida. He spent some time in Orlando, prompting rumors of a Bob Kennedy-Sam Mele deal that were promptly denied.

Bill Dewitt, vice-president of the St. Louis Browns, also haggled with owner Clark Griffith of Washington. He was said to be interested in Noren or Yost, and who isn't? Dewitt also has been eyeing the fine crop of Yankee rookies that Casey Stengel has been playing in the spring games.

Both Lane and Dewitt are high on some Yank kids. That might be well to keep in mind when the old stories about Eddie Robinson or Ned Garver coming to the Yanks pop up again. Lane calls the Yanks' Andy Carey "another McDougald."

Rain Too Late To Prevent Berra's Injury

It rained one minute too late for New York Yankees at Miami, Florida, yesterday. Just before a downpour washed out their game with Brooklyn Dodgers in the first inning, Yankee catcher Yogi Berra tripped over first base in running out a ground ball.

Berra suffered a sprained ligament and ruptured blood vessel in his right foot and will be lost to the Yanks for at least 10 days.

Boston Red Sox continue to be the losingest team on the grapefruit circuit. Their home town rival, the Braves, hammered out 18 hits in lambasting them 12-2 at Sarasota yesterday. It was the seventh straight loss for the Sox.

Ned Garver blanked New York Giants on three hits in a five-inning stint, as St. Louis Browns defeated the National League champions, 5-2, at Phoenix, Arizona.

Main Steelhead Prizes Won by Cowichan Indian

DUNCAN, March 15.—Henry James, a Cowichan Indian, took home the main prizes at the prize presentation of the Cowichan Fish and Game Association Thursday night.

Henry received a fibreglass rod and reel for leading the first half of the four-day two-week steelhead derby with a 15 lb. 7 oz. catch. He also received two reels of nylon line as a day prize in the second half.

In presenting the prizes, fisheries inspector [illegible] Sherman made the comment that he was pleased to see Indians taking to rod fishing.

Dick Chapman, Metchosin schoolboy, won second prize of a [illegible] with a 11 lb. 5 oz. catch. Other day prizes went to Dave Murray, R. [illegible] and Ron Gamme.

ADD 52 MEMBERS

Staged as part of a membership drive, the derby was a distinct success with 52 new members being recruited. Plans are already being considered for another derby next year.

The meeting was informed that Sherman is netting cutthroat [illegible] and packing them over the falls on [illegible] Creek where fish are having difficulty passing. Sherman netted 24, 55 and 27 for a total of 106 in three days.

A natural by-pass around the falls will be blasted and cleaned out to provide easier ascent for the cutthroat.

SEEK NEW ACCESS

Action will be taken by the association to get some work done by the department of public works on the Skutz Falls Road to provide access to the Cowichan River at the Falls. Failing this, the association wants private logging roads developed into public roads or a new access to the river provided.

A committee was formed to work with the fisheries department officials in picking out lakes and streams which should be restocked with fish this year.

The attorney-general will be asked to take further action on the problem of dogs chasing and killing deer. Members were opposed to dogs being required to wear collars and tags in the bush because of the danger of them getting caught up on bushes but they also want some means of bringing responsibility home to owners of the dogs.

Criticism was voiced of hunters who leave dogs in the bush to become wild and a menace to wild life in the district.

Power Golf

By Ben Hogan

In folding the left hand around the club the thumb of my left hand is slightly on the right side of the shaft. Looking down on my left hand I can easily see the first three knuckle joints. Also note that my left hand is well over the shaft. The V formed between the index finger and the thumb points approximately over my right shoulder.

There is definitely more pressure on the last three fingers of the left hand than there is on the index finger and thumb. While gripping with these three fingers you should also push down on the top of the leather or rubber grip of your hand. This will assure you of a firm grip. Try it and you will get the sensation of having the club locked in that hand.

Eastern Shuttle Players Sweep Dominion Crowns

WINNIPEG, March 15 (CP).—Eastern shuttle stars, led by wee Don Smythe of Toronto, made a clear sweep of all five open titles at the Canadian badminton championships which wound up tonight at the Winnipeg Badminton Club. All finals went to three games.

Smythe won the men's singles and shared the men's doubles crown with Bob Porter, also of Toronto, making the pair the only two-title winners in the four-day meet. Porter shared the mixed doubles crown.

Marje Mapp of Montreal stopped the championships from being an all-Toronto rout by winning the women's singles. Barbara Ince and Joan Warren, both of Toronto, took the women's doubles while Edith Marshall and Porter, both of Toronto, won the mixed doubles.

COSTLY DECISION

[illegible] Smythe defeated defending champion Darryl Thompson of Vancouver 15-4, 12-15, 15-14. The last game was tied at 14-14 when Thompson set one point to decide the match. Smythe served, Thompson returned and Smythe smashed home the winning point.

Miss Mapp came back from an 11-0 walloping in the first game to win the next two 17-16, 11-5, over top-seeded Marge Shedd of Toronto, giving the Montrealer her second singles title in four years. She won in 1949.

Smythe and Porter, second seeded pair, were hard pressed in defeating Ken Forsythe of Winnipeg and Al Williams of Calgary 17-18, 15-5, 18-16.

CLOSE MATCH

Misses Ince and Warren scored a well-earned upset victory over defending champions Jean Bardsley and Lois Reid of Vancouver. In one of the closest matches of the entire tourney, the Toronto pair lost the first game, 12-15, but came back to win two straight, 18-16 and 17-16.

Miss Marshall and Porter took the first game from Noreen Cossar and Grant Henry of Toronto, 15-11, dropped the second 9-15, but romped home easily by 15-7 in the deciding match.

Ontario captured the interprovincial championship by gathering in 26 points on a point basis. British Columbia was runner-up with 13.

THOMAS CUP TEAM

The Thomas Cup selection committee last night named its six-man team to meet the United States squad in the North American zone tie at Calgary next Friday and Saturday.

Named to the singles assignment were Thompson, Smythe and Williams. [illegible] the doubles are [illegible] Porter with veteran Dick B[illegible] of Toronto as [illegible]. Smythe and Porter also [illegible] as a doubles team.

Babe Zaharias Eyes Mark

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 15 (INS).—Mrs. George (Babe) Zaharias moved into a third-round and seven-stroke lead today in the 13th Annual Titleholders Golf Tournament at Augusta and threatened to break her own tourney record.

The rangy Babe carded a 73 for her third 18 holes. She now has a 54-hole stroke total of 220.

She needs only what would be a fat 78 for par in the final 18 tomorrow to break the 298 mark for 72 holes she set on the same Augusta Country Club course in 1950.

The steady-stroking Mrs. Zaharias went two strokes ahead in the first 18 Thursday, climbed to a five-stroke advantage at the end of 36 yesterday, and stretched her lead over her nearest competitor to seven today.

Running second to the Babe is tiny Louise Suggs, whose 74 today gave her a 54-hole total of 227.

Betsy Rawls was third with 228. Betsy shot a third round 76.

Mary Lena Faulk turned in a 75 to pace the amateurs with 230.

Patty Berg, who seemed to recover somewhat Friday after a high opening round, could gather only a 77 today for a total of 231. She is tied with Marilyn Smith, Wichita, Kan., who toured the Augusta Country Club course today in 76.

M.P. Asks Law To Protect Young Players

TORONTO, March 15 (CP).—A well-known former goalie is urging the Ontario legislature to pass a law to protect amateur athletes from exploitation.

Art Child, Progressive Conservative member of the legislature for Wentworth, who has played on several Canadian championship teams, attacked hockey's "C" form and negotiation list. "Through the intricacies of these devices," he said, "once a player is involved, he is in it as long as he can play hockey."

Child said young hockey players are being "exploited by the moneyed interests in sport."

Some players were taken up by professional hockey clubs without their knowledge. A player's name would be listed by scouts of the National Hockey League and other league clubs agreed not to approach the player for a year, during which the scout could put "pressure" on the player to sign over his services to a pro team.

Atlas Theatre Doorman to Act As Manager During Staff Week

It might pay off to be nice to the doorman at the Atlas Theatre next week because he [illegible] for a week. And besides that there will be 12 [illegible] of the week.

Atlas manager M. Preswerck will step down for a week and [illegible] while the staff of eight takes over the [illegible].

Boosted as manager will be Robert Greer, doorman. Other staffers [illegible] their elected [illegible].

[illegible] staff week is part of a [illegible] contest of Famous Players theatres. Complete theatre operation will be handled by staffs and the contest judged [illegible].

Several hundred dollars worth of [illegible] will be offered in door prizes at the Atlas next week. Mr. Preswerck [illegible] will be master of ceremonies on stage.

Staff will [illegible] a percentage of the week's take over a quota set by the company.

Canadian Ballet Standard Climbs

Standard of Canadian ballet higher this year [illegible] according to Guy Glover who screened candidate companies for the forthcoming Canadian Ballet Festival to be held in Toronto beginning May 5.

Mr. Glover reported to [illegible] Toronto ballet enthusiasts after seeing 18 companies in some 45 dance works. He said a list of companies selected for participation would be announced by March 28.

In addition to classical forms Mr. Glover observed work in modern dance idiom, called "free [illegible]. One work in this [illegible]

Winners of Oscars Still Anyone's Guess

HOLLYWOOD, March 16 (AP). The movie world's biggest party, the academy awards, [illegible] with a [illegible] next Thursday night. For the first time in years it's anyone's guess as to the winners.

Usually the Oscar derby can be easy. There might be one upset among the major winners but most of the categories are well tabbed in advance.

This year the Hollywood oracles have been fumbling for predictions and no one can seem to agree on the [illegible]. After sampling industry opinion this is how the race shapes up:

Best actress' performance: Vivien Leigh ("A Streetcar Named Desire") appears to have a slight advantage. Closely following her is Shelley Winters ("A Place in the Sun"). Eleanor Parker ("Detective Story") has a good darkhorse chance.

Best actor's performance: [illegible] Marlon Brando [illegible] Arthur Kennedy ("Bright Victory"), Fredric March ("Death of a Salesman") [illegible] Montgomery Clift ("A Place in the Sun") [illegible]

Best picture: "A Place in the Sun" appears the first choice, although "Streetcar" may [illegible] and sweep [illegible].

[illegible] stars have won two Oscars. They are Spencer Tracy, Bette Davis, Luise Rainer, Fredric March and Olivia De Havilland. Walter Brennan has won three as a supporting actor. This year Vivien Leigh, Jane Wyman or Katharine Hepburn could win their second Oscar, and March could win his third.

Oscars are goldplate bronze statuettes, 20 inches tall and weighing seven pounds. They cost around $50 but winners [illegible] add an estimated $100,000 to a [illegible] price.

France Receives $100,000,000 Loan

PARIS, March 15 (Reuters). France today received a $100,000,000 loan from the European Payments Union to tide her over her desperate balance of payments crisis. The loan must be repaid by the end of June 1952 when it is hoped recent French import cuts will bring about a reduced deficit with E.P.U.

Teen Tastes In Clothes

By DEE LAVOIE

Going right along with new spring [illegible] and [illegible] the latest in accessories, those important hats and purses and gloves.

Seems that the teeners are getting down-right conservative as far as purses go with so many of the fair ones just waiting for the day when they can [illegible] a tailored Bond Street bag from their arm.

These have been mighty expensive so far, but [illegible] have put in an appearance and are within the reach of even an allowance-bound gal. They may not wear quite as well, but who wants a purse to wear forever anyway?

And our wise [illegible] should soon get [illegible] of referring to them as [illegible]

Also in the [illegible] category are roomy over-shoulder bags, especially those [illegible] and [illegible] that [illegible] fingered art students are sporting. For us [illegible] people they are [illegible], too. For wear with any color the natural leather ones are the choice, but they also come in other colors.

SMALLER STYLE

For those of you who don't [illegible] squared-off box shapes are topping the list of favorites and there are even some [illegible] ones to be seen. Matching shoes are the perfect finishing touch.

Even the gal who dons a hat for church going only starts looking wistfully at the flower bedecked creations that appear in the stores [illegible] the gal who doesn't feel [illegible] up without one. They're [illegible] irresistible.

Little close-fitting [illegible] are leading the league [illegible] in bengaline, suedene [illegible] popular velvet often set with mock jewels to give them a touch of sparkle.

Topping off many of [illegible] cloche-type bonnets [illegible] and colorful feathers. Some of these reach so far skywards that they pose a problem when mam'selle has to ride in a crowded car.

ORIGINALS

The latest of hats can be dreamed up by those of you who have a knack with flowers and sewing. Forms of [illegible] or velvet are easily available and from there on [illegible]. Might be a good idea for [illegible] having trouble finding that [illegible] perfect hat to come up with your own original model.

Gloves add the finishing touch to an outfit, and most of you are choosing [illegible] in [illegible] plain style.

Frosty white ones [illegible] standard for all [illegible] wear [illegible] with new spring clothes. Some of the new [illegible] gloves are just a little different and come in vivid match-up colors as well as in white.

Colored leather gloves are always smart as are [illegible] suede ones. Only trouble with these is that they're almost impossible to clean, so that when the light-colored ones get dirty it's good-bye gloves.

Writing of Exams Over, But What About Results?

By BARBARA SANSON
Central Junior High School

Once again those term examinations are [illegible]

For one of us [illegible] and Friday of last week were [illegible] [illegible] to a [illegible] [illegible] on the road to success.

[illegible] the results to see whether or not it will be [illegible] home for parental inspection.

The photography club, for a reasonable fee, [illegible] in a position to develop snapshots and to make enlargements. A recent photograph of [illegible] was a great success, and the work of [illegible] should soon be in great demand.

A full [illegible] was shown last Tuesday noon to a fair-sized crowd of students. The regular Thursday noon-hour movie showed a Charlie Chase comedy which was much appreciated even though a little old-fashioned. One starring W. C. Fields helped considerably to take minds off examinations for a little while.

Last Fling Precedes Exam Time

By RANDLE JONES
Victoria College

As exams days become more [illegible] students of Victoria College are [illegible] extra [illegible] before settling down to the one solid month of hard study and cramming before the [illegible] teasers slated for the third week of April.

Last night at the Willows School auditorium 150 happy [illegible] danced, enjoyed a fine supper and were awarded many valuable merchandise prizes. Proceeds will go toward team transportation for next week's trip to U.B.C.'s open house.

Last week provided members of the International Relations Club with two excellent commentaries on the Near East.

On Thursday George Forbes, president of the I.R.C., introduced Lieut. Pinchas E. Lapide to approximately 65 club members. Lieut. Lapide, assistant director of the foreign ministry of Israel, spoke on his country's position in world affairs. Born in Fort St. John, B.C., the visitor stressed his country's desire for peace, its [illegible] of population since 1948 and its need for experience in domestic and international affairs. He emphasized that Israel has been an independent nation only since May 15, 1948.

"At present," he said, "Israel is [illegible] state but within a year this situation will be [illegible] in a manner which will separate the two groups.

"In my country we are pioneering [illegible] and from the brush."

HALFWAY POSITION

"Israel is half way between Moscow and New York, which places her in a very unpleasant position," he said. "Israel wishes to follow the democratic way of life and to do this favors the western way of living, but no alliances have been signed as we do not wish to antagonize the U.S.S.R., which at the present time houses 3,000,000 Jews, some of whom may in the coming years wish to follow their brethren to the land of milk and honey."

to the land of milk and honey."

He emphasized Israel's desire for peace with the Arabs. Peace on their 650-mile border is the prime interest of the Jewish people.

At 12:30 p.m., Friday, Dr. Olga Jardine was addressed the I.R.C. on Lebanon.

On Thursday of last week the directors of the subscription [illegible] campaign at Victoria College announced that up to that hour $70 had been yielded by the project. This is still far below the [illegible], but it was expected that the final two or three days would greatly boost the total.

Now that the sports dance is on the shelf, all students can anticipate the annual awards banquet and dance at 6:30 p.m., Friday, at the Crystal Garden. The banquet will see the awarding of 11 activity pins and various athletic awards to outstanding students.

The Pre-Med Club assembled last Wednesday to hear a lecture and show films on the removal of a cataract from the eye.

Spring Co-Ed Dance Ends "Twirp" Season

OAK Bay students turned out in full force Friday night for the popular spring [illegible] every popular [illegible] for the male populace. This dance brought to a close the "Twirp" (the woman is requested to pay) season and was the last financial aid that the bachelors could expect from the weaker sex.

High [illegible] of the evening was the corsage contest. Three [illegible] members of the faculty finally agreed that [illegible] Sharp's novel contrivance was the best, with Patti Jones the flattered florist.

Stage Lustre Shines On For Veterans

By BRIAN SMITH
Oak Bay High School

Oak Bay's Broadway lustre, acquired last week in the form of the annual spring concert, was briefly prolonged when the [illegible] performed at the Veterans' Hospital Monday evening. "[illegible] Sitting Bull" and [illegible] "The Gondoliers" entertained the veterans as successfully [illegible] the concert [illegible]

[illegible] color films shown [illegible] providing an array of thrills, and "Royal [illegible]" [illegible] of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip to the west coast. "Camera Magic," an amazing short on trick photography, was also presented.

Wednesday evening was unforgettable for the band [illegible] of Oak Bay students who joined the crowd at the Royal Theatre to hear [illegible] Patrice Munsel of the Metropolitan Opera. Many of the young fans left the theatre with dreamy eyes and some even with autographs.

Moving into a first place league tie with Mount Douglas, the junior soccer squad defeated Mount View 3-1 this week. The rep soccer team also scored a convincing 3-0 exhibition win over Victoria College.

[illegible] down fourth position in the inter-high senior basketball league, our girls [illegible] Mount View Queens 12 [illegible]

Social studies students from [illegible] visited Victoria High Thursday afternoon to hear Lieut. Pinchas E. Lapide, linguist and traveler from the new state of Israel, who gave an interesting talk on his country.

The University of Alberta was established in 1906 and the University of Saskatchewan in 1907.

Winners of Name Contest Published Next Week End

Two Greater Victoria high school students will have extra pocket money by next week end.

Judging of entries received for The Daily Colonist contest to name the school page will be completed and announced next Sunday.

Dozens of entries have been received, including names and sketches. The Colonist editorial staff is now selecting the best entries for final judging.

The student winning will receive a $10 cash award. A $5 award will be made to the runner-up.

School Issues Plea For Comic Books

By SINCLAIR ASH
Belmont High School

Time for a serious thought in Belmont's [illegible] about a small island off the [illegible] Bentinck, 11 miles southwest of Victoria.

A thought about the other name for Bentinck Island Leper colony. A thought about a lonely 12-year-old Chinese boy, a victim of leprosy, properly called Hansen's Disease.

He lives on Bentinck Island. His name is Timmy and although modern scientific [illegible] the [illegible] calls for his isolation, the island away from his home, his friends and his family.

Like other boys of 12, Timmy goes to school, or more accurately the school comes to him in the form of correspondence courses.

One of the most natural needs of a 12-year-old boy is amusement, but here Timmy is frustrated. He must be content with walking around the island and [illegible]. Recently news of Timmy's plight came to Belmont by way of the William Head Quarantine Station.

Student council president Bob Clegg sent out a plea to the student body for comic books in the hope that it would ease the monotony of Timmy's long days.

The reason was gratifying. Within a week more than 500 comic books were collected. It was the first time in Belmont's short history that comic books, which are strictly taboo, [illegible] without being followed by the sometimes violent reaction [illegible] from various members of the faculty.

[illegible] of comic books [illegible] and so we here at Belmont would like to relay the plea for comic books [illegible] hope that [illegible] at least one source of [illegible] the long months [illegible] is finally cured.

Give us your whole-hearted support. Remember [illegible] depends on it. Please address any donations to [illegible] care of Robert [illegible], William Head, RR1, Victoria, B.C."

Students Collect For Toys

By HARLENE CHRISTENSEN
S. J. Willis Junior High School

At the Junior Red Cross Council meeting on March 4 it was reported that the Grade IX had collected a total of $12.50, Grade VIII $21.06 and Grade VII $12.27, making a total of $45.83 cents for the fund for toys in the Swiss [illegible]

So as to follow [illegible] of the [illegible] classes staged private projects to collect the money.

A number of records have been sent to Victoria from American high schools, on which were recorded music activities from different parts of the eastern and southern states. These records were played at our school March 6. This work is being sponsored by the Junior Red Cross of the United States.

Girls' inter-house basketball scores totaled to date show that House Three is leading with 48 points, House Two coming a close second with 46 points, and House One last with 36 points.

In boys' basketball totals show that House Two has taken the lead with 55 points, House Three second with 45 points, and House One last with 36 points.

Both the boys' and girls' basketball play-offs begin next week.

At long last, after a number of tryouts and practices, the cast for the festival play, "The Land of the Dragon," has finally been completed.

Who will become empress? What will happen to the conspirators? Will Road Wanderer return? Will Jade Pure marry the imposter prince? These and other questions will be answered when the play is presented at Oak Bay High School, Monday, March 24. Do not miss it!

At the next P.T.A. meeting our school majorettes will perform a display as part of the program. Also on the program will be a demonstration of square dancing by students of the school.

Play Games At Ganges

By BARRIE WHARF
Mount Newton High School

The senior and intermediate boys and girls basketball teams visited Salt Spring Island yesterday and played the corresponding Ganges High School teams.

Students found their own transportation to Swartz Bay where they caught the 9 a.m. ferry, arriving in Fulford at 9.30 where a school bus was provided to transport the players to Ganges.

A schedule of inter-school games has been drawn up and the season will open in the early part of April.

W. Gibson visited the school on Tuesday and took photographs of the school teams, the Junior Red Cross, the Library Club, the Drama Club, the [illegible] and individual photographs of the graduates.

Esquimalt Journalism Club President Appointed Editor-in-Chief of Annual

Kitty Dixon, president of the Journalism Club and an active member for the past three years, was appointed [illegible] editor of the [illegible]

[illegible] was formed as [illegible] Gerry [illegible] sports, [illegible] Laurie Dodd and Judy Saunders, personals, and Marjorie [illegible] secretary.

[illegible] of the [illegible] awarded to [illegible] for the best [illegible]

The junior track meet, an annual feature at the school, was [illegible] in the new gymnasium. House support was [illegible] as every member of the three houses attended to support the entries.

[illegible] paper plates opened the program and was easily won by the [illegible] Mercury house. The [illegible] proved quite a [illegible] to the crowd, the more [illegible] the leader [illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Anderson of Mercury [illegible] the ball.

Two North Saanich Students Give Report on High Meeting

By DAVE BROWN and ANTHONY GAMBRILL
North Saanich High School

Two students from North Saanich attended the fifth annual high school conference held at U.B.C. Friday and Saturday, March 6 and 7. These students, both Grade XII members of the students' council, were [illegible] Dalton and Anthony Gambrill.

During the past week the student body has heard a report on their activities. The conference provided the high school representatives with information on courses, extra curricular activity and a general glimpse of campus life.

The delegates were also fortunate in being able to see the displays presented by the university for its Open House on March 7.

A week ago the students' council presented the [illegible] "Young Tom Edison" to a packed house in a two-part performance. The Thursday and Friday [illegible] were devoted to this [illegible] side splitter, starring Mickey Rooney, with proceeds contributing to expenses of the high school conference delegates from North Saanich.

The table tennis tournament is nearing the end in both boys' divisions. Semifinals are in session in both senior and intermediate boys' play, though the girls' [illegible] are still at the opening [illegible] stage. John Webster has reached the top of the [illegible] play-offs and Dave Liddle has reached the top of the [illegible]

Even without the [illegible] traditional 100 pipers 'an a' the for-r-rthcomin' spr-r-ring concer-r-rt at Vic High pr-r-romises to be verra colour-r-rful.

One o' the main featur-r-res o' the concer-r-rt will be a selection o' favorite Heilan' airs frae the far-r-r Isles o' the Hebrides includin' such numbers as the Lewes Bridal Song, the Glenlyon Lament and the spir[illegible] Road tae the Isles.

All numbers will be sung by a kilted choir under Miss N. O. Douglas.

Also included on the program (for any non-Scots present) are selections by the orchestra including the amusing "Toy Symphony" and "The Young Prince and Princess" from the "Thousand and One Nights" by Rimsky Korsakoff.

For those who revel in the thundering strains of martial music the school band under the baton of Mr. Grant will be on hand to render stirring tunes such as "Orpheus in Hades" (Can-Can) and "20th Century Pavanne."

Concert is scheduled for March 21 and 22 at the Vic High Auditorium.

HECTIC BUSINESS

Apart from the feverish preparations on the part of the musical departments for the concert all the school's attention has been focused on the island high [illegible] basketball tournament, which was held at Vic High Friday and Saturday.

Flashing bulbs, bright smiles and sheepish grins are still in evidence as local photographers go about the hectic business of helping the hard worked Camosun staff record the grads' faces for posterity.

In spite of these seemingly happy and confident preparations for that great June day some pessimist reminds us that there are only three weeks or less left until the Easter exams which may leave goose-eggs in somebody's basket.

Without throwing too many orchids around it this might be a good time to offer congratulations to the cast of "Our Town" for a job well done.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - - - - - - - - -

By Howard Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY IS PUZZLED

Uncle Wiggily with Chief the police dog and his helper Sergeant Bill had been riding along the road in the squad car when they saw Buster's flying sled over the road, skimming along through the air across a field.

"Is Buster on the sled?" Uncle Wiggily anxiously asked.

"I don't see him," barked Chief.

"But we still don't know whether Buster is on that sled or not," said Sergeant Bill.

"How are we to know?" Uncle Wiggily inquired.

"Because the flying sled is [illegible] in this field along the road. We can drive there and look on the sled to see if Buster is aboard."

"That's right, Sergeant Bill," barked Chief. "The sled is coming down [illegible]."

"I wonder why the sled is coming down," said Uncle Wiggily. "Is Buster not steering it down?"

"I don't believe so, Mr. Longears," Chief barked. "I think the sled is coming down because the March wind is no longer blowing on the kite sail. Without a wind to blow it the sled must come down. I don't believe Buster is on that sled."

"Oh, dear me! What could have happened to Buster?" asked Uncle Wiggily, puzzled and anxious. "Do you think Buster could have fallen off the sled?"

"Could be," said Sergeant Bill. Then, seeing how worried and anxious Uncle Wiggily was, Chief made haste to say:

"Maybe Buster is lying down, stretched out flat on the sled. That's why we can't see him."

"Oh, my goodness me sakes [illegible]," exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. [illegible] "I hope Buster boy is on that sled."

"We all hope the same," barked Chief, looking up at the flying sled which was slowly gliding [illegible] just a little faster, Sergeant Bill. Buster may be in trouble and we must help him."

"Here we go!" barked Sergeant Bill. He put one paw down hard on the gas pedal and the squad car shot ahead. [illegible] sled was [illegible] the field beside the road. Sergeant Bill put on the brakes and the squad car stopped beside a fence at the edge of the field.

"Buster! Buster! Are you all right? Are you on the sled?" shouted Uncle Wiggily. The sled was down in a little hollow between two hummocks of snow and was not in plain sight. "Buster, are you there?" asked Uncle Wiggily again.

There was no answer. Chief, Uncle Wiggily and Bill jumped from the car and leaped over the fence, running fast toward the grounded flying sled. It took but a single look to show that the rabbit scout was not on the sled.

"Oh, dear! What could have happened to Buster?" asked the puzzled and anxious Uncle Wiggily. "Where is he?"

"Must have fallen off," said Sergeant Bill.

"But he would not [illegible]," Chief was quick to add, [illegible] worried Uncle Wiggily. "Buster would fall into soft snowdrift and would be as safe as if he had dropped into a feather bed."

"Well, as long as we are here," barked Chief, [illegible]

He Hunted Seals and Otters — Sometimes Legally and Sometimes Not

By FRANK KELLEY

CAPTAIN Dick Folger was a fine figure of a man. Six feet, if an inch, he was "straight as a ramrod" and built in manly proportions. Would like to have a picture of him just to corroborate those statements. Had one, but cannot remember where it might be right at the moment. There are some Victorians who will still have a memory of his erect figure, as he was familiar on local streets well into the thirties, when he took a "departure" on the voyage that ends all voyaging.

Although he had become a British subject in pelagic sealing days, Dick Folger was a descendant of one Admiral Coffin who arrived in New England from the Old Land and settled at Nantucket, Mass., in 1688. In his will the Admiral left a fund for schooling any of his descendants who bore his name, a circumstance which wisely perpetuated the name of Coffin in the Old Bay State. Folger was a bit proud of this ancestor and the family name.

A LONG CAREER

His was a long career in pelagic sealing and sea-otter chasing. No doubt he had figured in some rugged adventures on the Atlantic side of the Pacific, when the objective of the voyages out of Yokohama would be the sea otter haunts of the islands north of Japan and off the Kamchatka shore. For his part in those exploits, although he never talked about them, he had come to be a wanted man by the Japanese government, which had put a price on his head in the late eighties of the last century.

I knew Folger fairly well, well enough for him to loan me log books of several cruises he made out of Yokohama, giving me permission to copy them and make whatever use of the entries I wished. There were no entries mentioning actual raids or killings, however, which doesn't prove anything, as some sealing skippers were known to have two sets of logs, one for the owners and the other for revenue officers and gunboat commanders.

NOT MENTIONED

With all that I somehow believed Folger had participated in some otter raidings [illegible]

schooner Penelope [illegible] in May of that year when Penelope was anchored off Urupa, one of the Kurile group. What happened between the time of Penelope's departure from Yokohama in March of that year and May is not recorded.

Last time I chatted with Folger he was still hopeful of receiving some compensation from the Dominion government for loss of livelihood. He was one of the sealers who stayed with the industry until it became illegal to take fur seals off the northwest coast of America, a regulation brought about through joint agreement between the United States, Britain, Japan and Russia. Japan paid its citizens who were engaged in the industry, so did [illegible], but Canada never did [illegible] a little with some at the time.

In 1911, the last year when schooners cleared from Victoria for the sealing grounds, there were just five vessels left: Pescawha, Jessie, Lady Mine, Thomas F. Bayard and Umbrina. Folger was in command of the latter vessel when she was hit by the collier Saturn south of the Columbia River in May of that year. There was a slight fog at the time, but on being taken aboard the collier the skipper told Folger the accident was unavoidable as he was under orders to proceed with all haste from Newcastle to San Diego, where the U.S. fleet was getting in shape for an anticipated brush with Mexico. The collier landed Folger and his men at San Francisco.

Then just before he sailed to the westward, Folger mailed me some notes, he said covered his first otter and sealing venture. "One pleasant morning in March, 1879, we sailed out of San Francisco Harbor for the North Pacific on a hunting and fishing voyage in the 52-ton schooner Alexander, Captain George Littlejohn. The captain's brother and myself were hunters. Out of the Golden Gate we stood away for the southwest with a fine breeze from the northwest. We stood on that course for some days when we picked up the northeast trades and stood due west until we raised the Bonin Islands, when we [illegible] west trade winds [illegible] the northern islands of Japan [illegible]

HUNTING OTTER

We [illegible] some otter there and moved on [illegible]

we found some Japanese vessels on the same quest, so we moved away to the Kuriles and the coast of Kamchatka. Then we bore away to the eastward, took a look at Copper and Bering Islands, killed some otter there and continued through the Aleutian [illegible] east coast of Alaska [illegible] for Victoria, where we arrived [illegible] October 20, 1879.

"The otter skins were [illegible] the skipper [illegible] [illegible] in Victoria sealing until 1911 [illegible]

Tested Seeds Best for Yield

By GORDON LINDSAY SMITH

LAST spring [illegible] experimental grounds across Canada and in similar points in the northern part of the United States certain seeds of vegetables and flowers were planted. Only a test number identified these new introductions of plant breeders from all over the world. Experts watched the results. They noted hardiness, freedom from disease, [illegible] of coloring in flowers, quality in the vegetables, earliness and other points which make a plant suitable and valuable for our harsh climate.

On the basis of their observations these new introductions were approved or disapproved. The best of these along with those of previous years will be listed in the Canadian seed catalogues this spring.

This is the way new developments in the garden world are introduced to the home gardener. In few other lines are the results of research, experiment and field trials made available so quickly for amateur or commercial use.

WHICH is most harmful to a garden, too much or too little rain?

This is a good question for a garden club quiz program because it brings out points of which too few beginners are aware.

The answer is not easy. On the one hand there are the desert soils which are barren until irrigated artificially, and then respond with extremely heavy yields. In contrast to this rich land are poorly drained places where the soil never dries out will refuse to produce crops until it has been well drained.

The difficulty here is lack of air which seems to be even more important than water to the roots of growing plants. Air cannot penetrate soil which is saturated with water, and the effects of too much water are more quickly [illegible] than the lack of it.

LET IT RAIN

To let rain into the soil [illegible] and allow excess moisture to drain away, soil must be porous. Sand may be too porous because it allows all water to run off, and clay is usually not porous enough because it holds water and excludes air. Both are improved by decayed organic matter, known as humus, which is like a sponge, holding some moisture [illegible] but allowing air to enter at the same time.

The most important improvement you can make in garden soil is to make it porous. A porous soil is also [illegible]

Ron. M. Angus: Made a Business of a Hobby

AN internationally-known Victoria stamp dealer admits that for much of his life he has been an easy mark for sharp businessmen.

Ronald M. Angus, former stevedoring executive, hotel manager and jack of all trades, has retired from active business after 22 years [illegible] dealer [illegible] several expensive lessons in the danger of trusting people with money.

He quit medical school in England because he wanted to make money quickly. He went into the used car business with a partner. "I had £200 and he had the knowledge," Mr. Angus says.

Their only sale was one motor cycle. "At the end of six weeks he had the £200 and I had the experience."

In Brandon, Manitoba, he was in partnership [illegible] Fair. They made big money, but his partner skipped with the loot. "All I got out of it," says Mr. Angus, "was a case of [illegible] dime."

He dropped $400 to a confidence woman who said she had just bought a hotel and wanted to borrow some money to complete the sale, and he sank several thousand dollars in financing an invention that never worked out.

Although he lost money through trusting people too readily, he made it up in good straightforward business. He sold the Walsh pair of 12-penny black Canadian stamps of 1851 to a New York collector for $[illegible], his biggest individual sale.

Among his personal customers were [illegible] George [illegible], the king of [illegible], Shirley Temple and [illegible] of the movies.

GOOD SCHOLAR

Mr. Angus was born in Newcastle [illegible] 1882. He went to private schools in Newcastle, Darlington and York and to Clifton College, then to Oxford University, where he had hoped to take the natural sciences tripos. He broke that off, went to Durham University and passed the [illegible] examinations toward his medical degree.

He was young, impatient and rather fond of a gay life, so he went into the car business with unfortunate results.

His father was a doctor, one of the leading general practitioners in Newcastle. "I could have stepped right into his practice if I hadn't been a young fool."

Mr. Angus began collecting stamps when he was five [illegible] before [illegible] Canada was populated mostly by bears and Indians [illegible]

Swinging Fingers Tell Time

Hands Flash Messages Through Roaring Mills

By BRIAN LOUGHNAN

You have to be a handy man to enjoy working in the roaring timber mills of this country.

In fact, if you can't tell a joke without using your voice you won't get far in a place as noisy as a planer mill. [illegible]

[illegible]

Amid the constant piercing trumpet note of the great planers, conversation is impossible and news or work signals must be handled by hand.

Few mill workers wear a watch for fear of breakage, and during the hard sweating hours the passage of time is of vital interest.

Most signals use only one hand. [illegible]

The language grew from a need for discussing various kinds of woods as, for instance, when a [illegible] operator asks the [illegible] wood is coming next.

The crane driver, high above the planer, can hear nothing but the roar of his own [illegible] of machinery, [illegible] a signal for every kind of wood.

He might stroke his nose with one finger, meaning "cedar," referring to the pungent scent of the wood. He knows the platform man understands when he sees him reach for the mask that keeps the stinging particles of cedar from his lungs.

DID A MONARCH ORDER A CIGARETTE SHOT FROM HIS LIPS?

Kaiser Wilhelm II was so impressed with the shooting skill of Annie Oakley that he insisted she shoot a cigarette from his lips. Taking careful aim, Annie pulled the trigger. The Kaiser was left standing, cigaretteless, but completely unharmed. Ohio-born Phoebe Anne Oakley Mozee (1860-1926) was an expert markswoman even as a child. With money earned killing game between her ninth and 11th years, she paid the mortgage on her mother's farm. At 15 she won a shooting contest from skilled vaudeville marksman, Frank Butler, whom she later married, and in 1885 signed up with Buffalo Bill's wild west show. At 30 paces Annie Oakley could slice a playing card with the thin edge toward her and pierce a card tossed into the air several times before it touched the ground!

DO YOU REALIZE ???

March 21 Is Only One Week Away

THIS MEANS THAT SPRING IS HERE

This also means to car owners that the following items should be checked

1. Cooling system — remove anti-freeze and flush radiator Check all hose connections water pump radiator and fan belt
2. Compression test motor check ignition fuel system, and generator charging rate
3. Change all oils to summer grades.
4. Check shocks and undergear

The above items will assure you of proper performance for summer driving

A phone or personal call to arrange an appointment is all that is necessary to give you prompt and efficient service

Big German Transmitter To Beam B.B.C. to East

BERLIN, March 15 (NANA-Kemnews). Radio Osterloog, the powerful hush-hush German transmitter used to beam "Lord Haw-Haw" propaganda broadcasts into Britain during the war, is to be handed over to the British Broadcasting Company for "Voice of Britain" broadcasts to the Russian zone, despite protests from listeners all over Germany, who want it to remain in [illegible] hands.

Public meetings are to be held throughout the British zone to demand that the Bonn government should revoke its decision to place Osterloog at the B.B.C.'s disposal for relaying the British viewpoint to Germans living in the Russian zone.

The Germans object that if Osterloog, situated on a spit of land jutting out into the North Sea, near the Dutch border, is handed over to Britain, and its power stepped up to 100 kilowatts, it will blanket local German stations in the Hamburg and Bremen areas.

LISTENERS' LEAGUE

The Listeners' League in a statement demanded that the Bonn government "reject the British demand for Osterloog as a fresh obstacle to Germany's sovereignty of her ether."

British officials in Berlin confirm that the former "Haw Haw" transmitter is to be turned into a powerful anti-Communist broadcasting station for relaying the B.B.C.'s European program to Germans living behind the Iron Curtain.

The big "beam" antenna at Osterloog, which, during the war, were aimed at Britain, are to be turned round to face east.

Another B.B.C. relay station is to be set up in Berlin—100 miles behind the Iron Curtain—to beam the B.B.C.'s German programs to the city's Russian sector, with its 750,000 listeners.

Britain's voice hardly is heard behind the iron curtain in Germany, secret listener polls show. The B.B.C.'s medium-wave broadcasts are weak and patchy, and though the short-wave transmissions can be heard easily in the Russian zone at certain times of the day, few people in Eastern Germany have short-wave receivers.

Auto Workers Move to Oust Red Leaders

DETROIT, March 15 (AP) — The international executive board of the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.), today set up a board of administration for its giant Ford Local 600 and directed it to fire any officers found to be "members of, or subservient to" the Communist Party.

The unprecedented action followed an all-day session which broke up shortly after midnight, at which Carl Stellato, president of the local, and his staff had been ordered to show cause why they should not be ousted.

U.A.W. president, Walter P. Reuther, chairman of the new six-man board of administration, had charged Stellato, vice-president Patrick F. Rice, recording secretary William R. Hood and treasurer W. G. Grant of Local 600 of failing to abide by the U.A.W. constitution, which prohibits Communists from holding office within the union.

The board was reported planning to take over the local's headquarters either Sunday or Monday. Makeup of the board was unique in U.A.W. annals. Previously whenever an administratorship was placed over a local, it consisted of only one international union official.

Former Leader Of Party Held

BERLIN, March 15 (Reuters). Eberhard Stern, former leader of the Neo-Nazi Socialist Reichs party here, has been arrested on charges of incitement to political murder, West Berlin justice officials said today. They declined to give further details until further investigations. The Socialist Reichs party is banned in West Berlin.

Modern, Streamlined Home Guard On March Again Soon in Britain

LONDON, March 15 (CP). A modern, streamlined version of Britain's famous Home Guard which stood as a bulwark against the threat of invasion in the Second World War will soon be on the march again. Authority to remuster the force was granted last December by an act of parliament.

The initial call has already gone out to prospective volunteers. But for the time being candidates are required to register only pending final agreement on the conditions of service. Actual enrollment is not expected to start until April, and training a month or two later.

Officials in charge of recruiting are aiming at an operational target of 900,000 men, about half the number mustered in the last war. The new army, however, will have a distinct advantage over the 1939-45 edition, which began basic training with pikes, staves and broomsticks.

Modern weapons and equipment will be available immediately to members of the revived force after enrollment, and courses of specialized instruction will be given, including the scientific aspects of atomic warfare.

NO OBLIGATION

Any man between the ages of 18 and 65 may apply for service, but registration will not involve any obligation on the individual to enroll nor commit the army to accept him. Men subject to service with the reserve forces will be accepted only if they are not marked down for a full-time job with the services in event of war.

Engagement on enrollment will be for two years but may be terminated at any time by giving one month's notice. Training, to be confined to evenings and week ends, will be on the basis of no pay but consideration is being given to payment of nominal out-of-pocket expenses.

No Home Guardsman will be required to serve in any overseas theatre of operations and volunteers will be assigned to units as near as possible to their homes or places of employment.

Battalions are to be brought to full effective strength as speedily as possible in the more vulnerable eastern areas of the country to facilitate the program of specialized training. Elsewhere, small organizational units, with a nucleus of 50 men or so, will be set up. These cadres will be entrusted with building up formations and preparing plans for quick deployment in emergency.

HEAVIEST DEMANDS

In the larger cities, where the demands of civil defense are heaviest, the size of the Home Guard force will be curtailed and small detachments that operated in remote areas in the last war will not be raised again.

The tasks of the reconstituted force will be somewhat different from those of the last war, said Major-Gen. E. O. Herbert, director of the Territorial Army and cadet forces.

The old Home Guard had been mobilized to meet the possibility of a large-scale seaborne invasion. The threat today, however, might take the form of an airborne attack against naval or offensive air bases. There was also the possibility of sporadic raids by small parties of saboteurs.

To meet such attacks, Gen. Herbert said, Home Guardsmen would have to stand ready to play a rehearsed part, operate quickly in deep defensive belts, know how to harry the enemy and be able to shoot straight.

Prime Minister Winston Churchill gave it his own picturesque version: "Our country should suggest to the mind of the paratrooper the back of a hedgehog rather than the paunch of a rabbit."

British Subs Will Test Nylon Clothes

LONDON, March 15 (NANA-Kemnews). Two British submarines will set out during the summer to test special clothes, including lightweight nylon underwear, which is warmer than wool, in Arctic waters.

Each man who sails in these vessels will have been specially examined to insure that he is able to face the ordeal.

The reactions of both men and submarines will be watched by teams of naval scientists, who also will pass judgment on highly secret technical equipment. The Admiralty attaches great importance to these tests, the first which the new cold-resisting equipment will undergo.

The crews will wear special clothes which will keep out the cold under any conditions likely to be encountered.

Scientists have tried this clothing in Britain. Experts broke the ice on a pond in London, floated in the ice-cold waters, and reported that they felt no discomfort.

Way Found To Convert Old Papers

WASHINGTON (NANA) — Old newspapers may be made into entirely satisfactory newsprint.

This goal, sought for years, but not hitherto quite attained, is very near because of the work of the department of agriculture's northern regional laboratory.

The old newspapers are "de-inked" by a special chemical process, then turned into pulp again. This pulp is mixed with pulp made out of wheat straw, vast quantities of which are essentially waste. Four-fifths of the paper pulp is mixed with one-fifth of the straw pulp.

Basic to this advance, according to the report of the Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry, is the development at the regional laboratory of a practical method of turning the straw into pulp paper.

The paper resulting from the mixture, said the report, "proved to be superior to standard newsprint in color, strength and surface characteristics. It seems practical to give consideration to relieving the shortage of newsprint by producing fine straw pulp and blending this with de-inked, repulped waste newsprint."

The straw pulp, according to the report, also has been found to be of considerable value in the production of high-grade specialty papers, in which larger proportions of it are mixed with wood pulp. The process resulted, first, in somewhat stronger papers.

Particularly outstanding, said the report, "were writing bond and waxing papers containing straw. The magazine-book paper was considered at least equal to the standard. The waxed paper was considered an improvement, particularly because of greater transparency, which gave better printability and eye appeal."

These possibilities may have even greater importance in Europe and the Orient, the report added. There is a growing shortage of newsprint, especially, and an advance in the cost of all wood pulps in those regions.

Hy Buller Gains Support For N.H.L. Rookie Award

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP). — The scramble for rookie-of-the-year honors in the National Hockey League continues into the final week of the season with Hy Buller, New York Rangers' defenseman, stacked against a glittering array of freshmen who have pushed the Montreal Canadiens into second place.

At least three Montrealers — Boom Boom Geoffrion, Digging Dickie Moore and Paul Meger — have been rated well above the rookie field in various quarters, but Chicago coach Ebbie Goodfellow said today the Calder Trophy should go to Buller, a Montreal boy, if the Rangers achieve a playoff spot.

"If they get in," said Goodfellow, "it's Buller who got them there."

Goodfellow's top choice among the Canadiens is scrappy, two-way Meger, who has 23 goals, six fewer than his colleague on the right wing, Geoffrion.

GEOFFRION TOO LAZY

"I have a lot of respect for Geoffrion's shotmaking," said Goodfellow, "but sometimes he strikes me as being a little lazy. He doesn't push himself too hard."

Critics of Buller's candidacy point out that no defenceman has ever won the trophy and the $1,000 which the N.H.L. awards as a bonus. But Frank Boucher, Ranger manager, ridicules this argument.

"If Buller wins," says Boucher, "it will cost the Rangers as well as the N.H.L. a $1,000 bonus. But I think he rates it. He is as good a defenseman as there is in the league."

"You have to judge a player by his merits, no matter where he plays. And I don't have to tell you how much Buller has meant to us."

RECORDS DUE TO FALL

Only three Ranger forwards have outscored Buller, whose 35 points have already tied the club record for a defenseman, set originally by Ott Heller in 1943-44. And his 12 goals are one short of another club record for a backliner.

Buller, a mature rookie who reached his 26th birthday today was buried for eight seasons in the American Hockey League, a mystery Boucher will never understand.

"On power plays," Boucher says "he's the best defenseman the Rangers have ever had."

Inter-Ship Golf Won by Dockyard

H.M.C. Dockyard captured the Sports Shop Trophy by carding a team score of 724 during the Inter-Ship Golf Tournament at the Gorge Vale Golf Club yesterday. H.M.C.S. Naden and H.M.C.S. Ontario were far behind.

Lt. (E) Leen won the low gross honors with an 81 while Lt.-Cmdr. Reynolds had a 66 to win the low net. Cd. Off. Smith won the "kickers' handicap" with a 70, and Cd. Eng. Woodward won the consolation.

Hoopla Finals Set for Sooke

McMorran's, the pride and joy of the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League, will meet Vancouver Y.M.C.A. in a two-game total-point series for the coast intermediate "B" boys' championship at Sooke this week.

The first game will be played Friday and the second on Saturday. Both games will start at 8:30 p.m.

McMorran's is the only team from the Suburban loop to win a Vancouver Island championship this season. Winner of the coast series will meet the interior champion for the provincial crown.

Victoria Archers Eighth in Tourney

The 75th (B.C.) H.A.A. Regiment Archery Club of Victoria finished eighth in the six-week Canadian indoor mail matches, recently completed. Teams from all parts of the Dominion took part.

Victoria scores out of a possible 540 were: Jack Miller, 486; Bill Carnes 471, Bess Copeman 432, Bob Copeman 430, June Miller 404, Jack Lee 390, Howard Sneade 341, Don Copeman 336.

City XV Draws

University School of Victoria and St. George's of Vancouver battled to a 3-3 draw in an exhibition Rugby game at the University School grounds yesterday afternoon.

Kendall scored a try for the home team in the first half while McCarthy tied it up for St. George's in the second half.

University School's junior team swamped St. George's juniors, 23-0, in the preliminary.

Culbertson on Bridge - - -

(Copyright, 1952, by Ely Culbertson)

Bad bidding by North in today's deal was offset by bad defense on the part of West.

North, dealer.

NORTH
♠ Q 4
♥ A 7 6 5 3 2
♦ K 3
♣ A 5 2

WEST
♠ 10 8 5

SOUTH
♥ K 4
♦ Q 6 5 4
♣ K J 7

The bidding:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♥ | Pass | 2 N.T. | Pass |
| 4 ♥ | Pass | 4 N.T. | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

North's jump to four hearts over South's two no-trump was an inexcusable stretch, and it gave South the impression that a very good hand lay opposite him — hence, his mild slam try of four no-trump. (Since the two-no-trump call had been a "limited bid." South did not regard the four no-trump as a conventional Blackwood bid. Neither would most experts.)

North probably realized that he had been somewhat too enthusiastic, so he passed the four no-trump.

West's opening was the seven of diamonds and South had something to think about. After due consideration he ducked on the board and let East hold the trick with the ten. East returned the diamond eight, and West might well have gone in for some ducking, too, but he put up the ace and continued with the diamond jack.

South, winning with the diamond queen, laid down the king of hearts, then led to the heart ace. He then led a third round of hearts, and he "felt better" when East took the trick. (Obviously, South could not hope for 10 tricks without setting up hearts; so if West was the one with the heart stopper, it would be just too bad.)

Now, however, the defenders were through—West's established diamond withered on the vine because he had not made the vital ducking play on his partner's return at the second trick.

By RITA DEL MAR

For: SUNDAY, MARCH 16, 1952

Today's Quotation: "Be pleasant until 10 o'clock in the morning and the rest of the day will take care of itself." Elbert Hubbard.

Sunday for Everyone: You will do well to make this a quiet day. Enjoy some rest or light recreation. Look after your health and that of dependents. Retire earlier than usually.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below:

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Limit expenditures of energy, money, during the daytime. Double check plans, judgment later.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Use tact with partners, associates. Effect savings; take no chances, steady position in evening.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Care for necessary tasks today. Seek the conservative, safe path during the evening.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Relax, rest rather than rush hither and yon today. Save money and energy.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo).—Clean up odds and ends. Maintain quiet and peace on the home front.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Keep things on an even keel. Evening: give service; finish things; be around your regular base.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Attend to details or seek conventional, thrifty pleasure, but don't overdo.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Follow routine. Be "at home"; care for essentials, be diplomatic, thrifty.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius) Be tolerant, skip criticisms. Keep out of the limelight for the time being.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Watch change, financial details. Don't permit others to make decisions for you.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Be conscientious about tasks. Evening: exert tact in dealings with friends, kinfolk.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Drift along with the tide during the day. Evening: maintain the goodwill of higher-ups.

FOR MONDAY, MARCH 17, 1952

Today's Quotation: "No one is exempt from talking nonsense; the misfortune is to do it solemnly."—Montaigne.

Monday for Everyone — Be active in connection with matters that may yield some future benefits. Reorganize, systematize. Add to savings; make good use of what you own instead of buying.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below.

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Have confidence in opinions, your future program. Scan incoming letters, news for a helpful clue.

April 20 to May 20 (Tairus)—Be in a position to call in or repay loans. Touch up present possessions; restore things to usefulness.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Seek a brief change of scene in order to attain a more impersonal outlook. Be co-operative; helpful.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Attend to routine tasks and the requirements of those who depend on you. Enjoy a peaceful evening.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Let current conditions bring you that "free and easy" feeling. Publicize your cherished aspirations.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Get in well with kinfolk, parents, members of the community. Act decisively in some matter.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Maintain ready access to sources of information or sociability. Cultivate those in your vicinity.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Make some advantageous sales or purchases. Put the budget in better form.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Have faith in your power to sway others. Undertake activities yourself. Welcome revisions.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Air your wants judiciously; help is forthcoming. Clear away odds and ends or store up rest.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Put the stress on friendship and wider goals in order to secure notice or support. Gain ground.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Spend your time with persons who can give you a boost in business. Be in top form today.

Islander in Ballet Troupe

A former Chemainus boy will dance as Marina Svetlova's partner when the Metropolitan Opera ballerina appears in Victoria on Tuesday. He is Robert Cadwallader, whose parents live in Chemainus. He is shown here with Miss Svetlova at rehearsals. His stage name is Robert Calder.

Svetlova Partner Born in Chemainus

A former Chemainus boy will dance in Victoria on Tuesday as partner to famed Marina Svetlova, prima ballerina of the Metropolitan Opera.

He is Robert Cadwallader, who uses the stage name of Calder. His parents reside in Chemainus, where Robert was born and educated.

He received his first dancing lessons from the Florence Clough School of Dancing, Victoria, in weekly sessions held at Chemainus, and his first dancing partner was Mrs. M. Wood, now of Duncan.

He also danced with Viola Crucil, also of Chemainus, at present a ballerina in the Met.

Further lessons in Vancouver followed, during which time he was employed on coastal boats. Following a successful season, he went to Eastern Canada and later to the U.S.

Shortly after going to New York he appeared in several musicals, and took leading dance roles in such shows as "Hold It" and "Music In My Heart."

He was featured with Nancy Walker in the hit show "On The Town."

He also danced for television, appearing on Olsen and Johnson's show and in "Talk of The Town."

Calder has danced with Miss Svetlova for a year, traveling to almost every large city on the continent. They recently returned from a tour of several engagements in Hawaii.

Although he visited his parents in Chemainus last fall, Tuesday will mark Calder's first appearance before a Victoria audience.

Noted Dancer Once Feared Unable to Walk

When Blanche and Alan Lund, Canadian dance team headliners, dance across the Royal Theatre stage tomorrow, few will realize that Blanche was once paralyzed from the waist down.

Stricken with polio while she was doing a camp show with her husband in Oldenburg, Germany, during the last war, Blanche made one of the greatest comebacks in international theatrical history.

Within two years, the girl whom army doctors gave little hope of even walking again, was practising all over again elementary dance steps—with her husband.

Returning to England, they signed up with the Tommy Trinder "Royal Command Music Hall Varieties," which will play here.

Drama Judge Experienced

Jack Thorne, Vancouver actor, teacher and director, will be this year's adjudicator of the Schools Drama Festival, March 24 to 29 at nine B.C. centres.

Mr. Thorne has been associated with the drama department of the C.B.C.; Northwestern University, school of speech, and Eagles Mere Playhouse in Pennsylvania.

The Patron Saint

The windows are attracting quite some attention with their green motif for St. Patrick's Day on Monday.

There are real-looking sacks of potatoes made of marzipan, chocolate "Porky" pigs and pipes, candy snakes, and boxes with a touch of green to suit the day.

Welch's
CANDY SHOP

Ice Show Props Gigantic

A gypsy caravan and a jungle drum 60 feet in diameter are only two of the props being built by Victoria Figure Skating Club members for their annual ice carnival next Saturday.

Entirely hand-made, these and hundreds of other special properties, as well as costumes for the "Ice Capers" are being [illegible] sewn and designed by club members and mothers of children taking part.

Harry Hornby and Joe St. Pierre are in charge of the props, while a committee, headed by Mrs. Russell Robertson, Mrs. C. R. Patterson, and department store milliner Mrs. C. L. Carpenter, are busy with costumes.

JUNGLE COMEDY

Hand-carved spears, a giant stewpot, and the drum are being constructed by Mr. Hornby and Mr. St. Pierre for the jungle comedy act, and elaborate clamshells, a thatch roof hut, palm trees and other tropical embellishments are to be used in production numbers.

Lighting for the show will be elaborate. A Vancouver firm has been called in to provide the overhead illumination.

Mr. Hornby has invented a series of green, amber and red signal lights, similar to traffic signals, controlled by a switchboard high above the orchestra, to cue in the skaters.

"Ice Capers" star, Eric Waite, is scheduled to leave England today in order to make his appearance with the show.

Masonic Choir To Give Concert

C. C. Warren will conduct the Victoria Masonic Choir in a recital of sacred music at 3 p.m. today in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Assisting artists will be Mrs. W. H. Wilson, soprano soloist, and George Peaker at the console of the Longfield memorial organ. A collection will be taken.

POPULAR MUSICAL

"Chu Chin Chow" holds the record for long runs of any plays staged in London, with 2,238 performances.

Comedian Here Tomorrow

TOMMY TRINDER.

Britain's top comedian, who has appeared in four Royal Command performances in London, and five private Royal Command performances at Buckingham Palace, Balmoral and Windsor Castles, will be here at the Royal Theatre tomorrow.

Margaret Truman Billed

Soprano Margaret Truman, daughter of the President of the United States, will sing for Victorians on Tuesday, April 1, in the Royal Theatre. Tickets for her concert are now on sale at Fletcher's.

Symphony to Feature Young U.S. Pianist

Grant Johannesen, brilliant young American pianist, will be the featured artist at the final season concert of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra on Monday, March 31, at the Royal Theatre.

He will play the Saint-Saens Concerto for Piano and Orchestra, No. 4, in C Minor with the orchestra.

The orchestra will play Shubert's Symphony No. 9 in C Major on the same program.

Mr. Johannesen last year won the first grand prize at the international piano festival in Belgium, as well as the American Artists' Award.

He was born in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Authentic Scottish Program Has Cast of More Than 100

More than 100 dancers, pipers and singers will give the authentic Scottish ring to the Royal Theatre rafters April 7.

Sponsored by the Victoria Highland Games Association, the Scottish Revue of 1952 will be presented by Adeline Duncan, and proceeds will be in aid of the Victoria Nursing Home auxiliary.

Two pipe bands under the direction of Pipe Major Ina Duncan will be featured, as well as three champion Highland dancers, Adeline and Heather Duncan and Ronald Marrs.

Also included in the program will be many traditional hornpipes, jigs, strathspeys, reels, country and square dances.

Schools' Drama Festival Will Present 27 Plays

Twenty-seven plays will be performed during the Victoria Drama Festival from March 24 to 29.

The number is a record entry from school districts 61, 62 and 63, it was reported yesterday.

Best actor awards will be given in the elementary, junior high and senior high school classifications.

Adjudicator will be Jack Thorne of Vancouver.

Three plays will be performed at each school selected. Schools entered will perform in their own auditoriums or at schools in their own districts.

Opening performances will be given the evening of March 24 at Oak Bay High School.

Afternoon performances will be given at Quadra School March 25, South Park School March 26, Oaklands School March 27, and St. Margaret's School March 28.

Evening performances will be at Mount View High School March 25, Victoria High School March 26, Oak Bay High School March 27, and Esquimalt High School March 28.

An honor performance of the prize-winning presentation will be given on the evening of March 29 at Victoria High School.

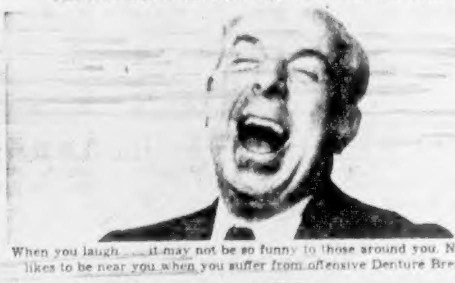
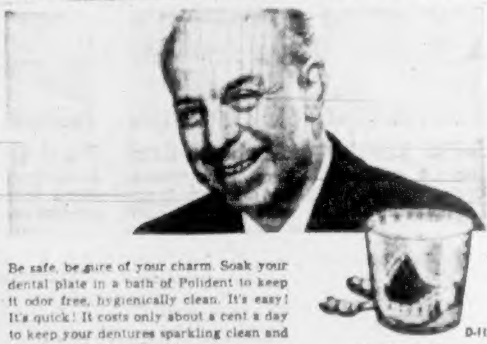
FALSE TEETH?
HOW OFTEN DO YOU OFFEND WITH DENTURE BREATH?

When you whisper . . . you may give away your own secret. The offensive odor of Denture Breath tells everyone you wear false teeth.



When you laugh . . . it may not be so funny to those around you. No one likes to be near you when you suffer from offensive Denture Breath.



Be safe, be sure of your charm. Soak your dental plate in a bath of Polident to keep it odor free, hygienically clean. It's easy! It's quick! It costs only about a cent a day to keep your dentures sparkling clean and free from Denture Breath.

IF THE MEAT IS TOUGH? . . .

To improve a tough-looking joint of meat, make cuts thru it from top to bottom with a sharp knife. Insert thin pieces of lard dipped in salt & pepper. Meat is usually roasted this way in Sweden. A pair of towels goes to Miss Christina Robertson, 5 Stanley Place, Edinburgh, for this idea.

A stack of Glasgow newspapers given to us contain a weekly column of these helpful hints to housewives. We are printing a few, and will run a column like this again, if any of you gals in Victoria come up with some better stunts. We, too, will donate a nice pair of towels for the best idea submitted.

* *

If curtains have shrunk in the washing & there's difficulty in getting the rods thru the hems, rub them lightly with talcum powder. They will slip into the hems quite easily. Mrs. Thrussell, 2 Brunswick Place, Edinburgh.

* * *

If you need a nice pr. of towells, HUMBER'S FURNITURE WAREHOUSE will give them to you for the best idea to make home making easier.

* * *

When boiling a thick cut of codfish, add one tablespoonful of vinegar along with salt to the boiling water. This keeps the fish white & very clean. Mrs. Geddes, Deskford, Cullen, Banffshire.

When looking for a chesterfield suite, get HUMBER'S price on your old battered sofa, and let this apply as part of the payment on the new.

A clean rag, dipped in turpentine & wiped along the rollers, will quickly erase all stains & restore that new look to your wringer. Mrs. C. Cavanagh, Glasgow.

To stop the irritating noise of a dripping tap until a new washer can be put on, tie a piece of string around the edge of the tap, & leave a length of string reaching to the sink or bath. The drip will run silently down the string. Mrs. A. Wallace, 70 Croftend Ave., Glasgow. (Ed. Note: That's thinking, eh?).

Tie another piece of string around your finger and when you get to town it will lead you to HUMBER'S for that new chrome set, with $10 off for yours.

Stored linen turns yellow. Steep the linen for some hours in hot water or vinegar, using a pint of vinegar to 2 quarts of hot water. Mrs. J. Kerr, Burbank-Hamilton.

If the necks of winter nighties are too wide, use the belt to fill in the space. As the belt is usually long, it can go twice around and be stitched in place by faggoting or veining. This is much more cosy and looks nice. Miss N. Jeffrey, Gorgie Road, Edinburgh.

Don't stick your neck out and spend a lot more pounds than you should, when HUMBER'S can cosy up your bedroom for only $139. You get the Mr. & Mrs. Chests, plus chiff, and a big wide bed.

* * *

Don't throw away water in which onions have been boiled. White paintwork will come up clean & glossy without the use of any soap, if you sponge it down with this liquid. To take the smell of onions out of the pan, rinse with cold tea. Mrs. C. Barbour, Saltcoats.

YOU won't turn your nose up at these davenports at HUMBER'S. Sniff all round town, and you won't find anything nicer for $59.

If the feet of your stockings slip when wearing fleece-lined boots, make a pair of garters to fit just above the ankle. They keep the heels from puckering, too. Miss Wilson, Lanark.

WHO WANTS the nice pair of towells??? Send us your ideas, and in 2 weeks' time, we'll print the winner. Let's help others and have fun, too.

The only bright idea I ever had was to attach the garden hose onto the end of the rake, then climb the ladder with the idea of swooshing out the gutters, but the hose slipped where I had it tied on, & it hit me in the face and I got very wet.

I.C.A. Inquiry Chairman to Speak

By BILL MAYOR

Arthur Ash, M.L.A., chairman of the legislative inquiry committee on the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, will address a meeting of trade unionists April 7.

The Machinists, Fitters and Helpers' Union, Local 3, (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) announced yesterday that Mr. Ash had accepted an invitation to the meeting.

All trade unionists in Victoria will be invited to attend, the union said.

The committee chairman spoke last week in the legislature concerning the committee's work, and he is expected to inform the meeting of details submitted in the reports to the legislature.

Last year was the safest in the 46-year history of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, according to a report from Trail.

With 8,500 employees, for every 1,000,000 hours of work in 1951, there were 17.5 accidents involving a loss of an employee's working time.

Employees worked 17,000,000 man-hours with a total of 297 lost-time accidents, 104 fewer than in 1950. There were two fatal accidents in the year.

The figures cover employees working mainly in mines, metallurgical and chemical plants, and shops.

At the Sullivan Mine, the west section of about 223 miners worked more than 250,000 accident-free hours, rated by safety officials an outstanding achievement.

Toronto reports say James E. McGuire, secretary-treasurer of the C.C.L. Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, will face charges at his union's next executive meeting Tuesday at Ottawa.

The charges are reported to pertain to alleged offenses committed against the union's president and the C.C.L. chief, A. R. Mosher.

It is also reported from Toronto that the offenses do not arise from an editorial in the C.B.R.E. journal which was later repudiated by Mosher.

The editorial, by implication, accused Charles H. Millard, Canadian head of the United Steelworkers' Union, of bringing about the resignation of C.C.L. secretary-treasurer Pat Conroy at the congress annual convention recently in Vancouver.

What the actual charges will be were not given by the Toronto reports.

A decision is to be made by the Labor Relations Board on whether 10 janitors employed by the Workmen's Compensation Board, Vancouver, can claim membership in a trade union.

The Building Service Employees (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) were certified as bargaining authority on Jan. 30. The board officials claim the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act doesn't apply to Crown employees.

Meanwhile, the Labor Relations Board has issued certificates for the Carpenters' Union (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) for carpenters employed by Ianson and Polglase Ltd. at Campbell River. The Duncan and District Automotive Maintenance Workers' Federal Union (T.L.C.) has been certified for employees of Lake Service Garage, at Lake Cowichan. The bargaining authority does not include office staff and car salesmen.

T.L.C. Victoria locals meeting this week include Carpenters and Riggers, Monday; Electricians, Tuesday; Trades and Labor Council, Laundry Drivers, Wednesday; Milk Salesmen and Bakery Salesmen, Thursday; Laborers and Sheetmetal Workers, Friday.

C.C.L. local meeting is Division 276, C.B.R.E., on Thursday.

If Russia Has H-Bomb, She Has Trouble Too

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 16 (AP). — Russia is said to be preparing a hydrogen bomb for testing this year.

If so, Russia may be in for a lot of difficulties in making an H-bomb stable enough to reach a target before it is ruined by evaporation.

The Russian H-bomb forecast comes from Kenneth De Courcy, the Briton who correctly forecast Russia's A-bomb. He said Russia plans an H-bomb this July.

Russia's reported H-bomb work might be no different from the thermo-nuclear experiments which the United States has been reporting for several years.

Some of the troubles in keeping an H-bomb alive long enough to reach its target have been disclosed in engineering and scientific studies of liquid hydrogen. The main one:

The liquid form of hydrogen is apparently the one to be used in making bombs. To liquefy hydrogen requires not only pressure but a temperature around 420 degrees below zero Fahrenheit. This liquid boils at minus 426.

The standard method of keeping liquid hydrogen cold enough is to surround the hydrogen tank with an outer tank filled with liquid nitrogen. Such a tank would be an added weight handicap for an H-bomb.

The chilled liquid fuels of present guided missiles have to be loaded into the missile at the point of firing. It appears the same handicap will apply to H-bombs.
